There is a certain amount of work to do in the world, and the reason some folks have to work from daylight until dark is because many other folks never work at all. Work is necessary to growth. Work is a blessing, not a curse, because through it we acquire strength—strength of mind and strength of body.—So says Elbert Hubbard.

PEKING HAS FALLEN; DYNASTY IN FLIGHT

Report Say Rebels Captured Capital of Chinese Empire After Battle on Sunday and Now Hold It.

GOOD ORDER SAID TO RULE IN THE CITY

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—A cablegram to the Chinese daily Free Press, a newspaper published here, received early today, says Pekin was captured late yesterday by the revolutionists after a sharp encounter.

A dispatch also was received by the Chinese Free Press, announcing the fall of Pekin had been reported in Shanghai, but had not been verified.

The dispatch stated all the officials of the city, including a number of high officials of the Manchu dynasty had fled in the night.

The rebels are said to be in peaceful possession, after a spirited fight late yesterday.

Chinatown is celebrating the reported revolutionary victory with parades and fire works. The streets are being flooded with extra editions of Chinese newspapers and crowds are gathering in the heart of the Chinese mercantile districts, waving the red flag of the republic and shouting and singing.

NAVY DESERTS TO REBELS.

Shanghai, Nov. 6.—Three Chinese gun boats, forming a part of Admiral Sah Chen Ping's fleet, which put in here yesterday for provisions, went over to the rebels this morning.

The Chinese telegraph operators here went on strike today. The cables have not been molested. Foreign marines are guarding the cable house. It is believed that Admiral Sah is in hiding in this city.

Ching-Kiang, in the province of Kiang Su, fell at 3 o'clock this afternoon. All is quiet there. The city is a treaty port, second in importance only to Shanghai. The population is about 150,000. Hang Chow, capital of the province of Che Kiang, was taken by the rebels yesterday after a brief, but spirited resistance.

JUDICIARY SCANDAL IN NEW YORK—WITNESSES AND PROSECUTOR

The judiciary scandal in New York, wherein several Judges of the Supreme Court Bench are charged with having bought their nominations, is proving more and more sensational. Among those charged with bribery is William Willett, Jr. Lewis T. Walter, a voluntary witness, declared he received $5,000 cash from Willett five days before the latter was nominated for Supreme Court Justice. William Hendrickson and Joseph Malrose are important witnesses in the case. Assistant District Attorney De Ford is in charge of the prosecution.

PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER OF HIS WIFE

James M. Nolan Goes Into Circuit Court, Confesses Charge in Indictment and Takes Life Sentence.

HAD LITTLE CHANCE IN ANY DEFENSE

James E. Nolan, who shot and killed his wife, Emma Nolan, at their home, on Hayden street, on August 13, of this year, entered a plea of guilty to second degree murder in the circuit court before Judge Edward O'Rourke this afternoon and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary at Michigan City.

The entire proceeding consumed less than ten minutes. Nolan was asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced against him and shook his head and after the entry had been made the judge read his finding and the county was saved what would in all probability have been a long and tiresome trial.

Sister Talks With Him.

Nolan's sister held a conversation with the prisoner while he was waiting to enter his plea and after it was over she was given another opportunity to talk to him. He was taken back to jail in charge of Deputy Sheriff Walter Immel and in a day or two will be transported to Michigan City.

Nolan was employed in the local railroad shops for a number of years but on account of his dissolute habits he could not hold a steady position and the crime for which he will go to prison came as the result of a protracted spree.

PRESIDENT QUALIFIES TO CAST VOTE IN CINCINNATI

Forgets Number of His Residence Last Time He Voted, But is Able to Describe and is Passed.

Cincinnati, Nov. 6.—President Taft today took the first step toward regaining his right to vote tomorrow in the Cincinnati municipal elections here. The president appeared personally before the election board and obtained a certificate allowing him to register in ward 3, precinct M. He will appear before the proper authorities in that precinct late this afternoon and will be ready to cast his vote tomorrow. Mr. Taft came into the room of the election board at the city hall this morning pretty nearly like any other citizen, except for the presence of Major Butt in a uniform and a detail of Cincinnati police. The ceremony was brief and to the point.

"It's hardly necessary to ask you if you have been in the city during October," said one of the board as the president took a seat at the long table around which the board was gathered, laying his silk hat in front of him and took off his gloves.

"No," said the president, smiling, "I haven't. It has been quite impossible for me to get here owing to the engagements I had made."

"Under the circumstances then," said the chairman, "I guess we'll give you a certificate."

Mr. Taft put on his gloves, lifted his hat from the table, the police closed in about him and he marched out. In the corridor of the city hall were several hundred citizens waiting to get their certificates also. "There goes Taft," yelled one. "I'll bet he votes the right ticket," said another. The president smiled. He has already announced his intention of supporting the republican candidate on the municipal ticket.

Tomorrow Mr. Taft will cast his vote at 2008 Madison road. His last place of residence in Cincinnati was at 1,936 Madison road. Today he had forgotten the number, but he was able to describe it so that others knew what was meant. "You see," said the president, "I've forgotten the number," and he took the case in which he carries his eye glasses to use as a pointer. "Its on Madison road, just before you turn like this,"

WOMEN POKER PARTIES TO BE RAIDED BY THE POLICE

Police Captain in Fashionable North Shore District of Chicago Says He Will Haul Players In.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—A test of strength between women residents and W. W. Cudmore, police captain commanding a station in the north shore residence district, over his interpretation of the gambling law is expected tomorrow. In the police activity against gambling, Captain Cudmore put a ban on women's poker parties, in many cases of which it is said the stakes run into large sums.

The women in whose homes the games have been held defied him to stop them, after he had sent detectives around warning them to stop.

"I'll have all the patrol wagons at the station in service today," he said, "and if I find any games they will be raided and the players arrested and hauled to the station.

"I intend to break up these games. In some of them the limit has been so steep that husbands have been seriously embarrassed in making good their wives' losses."

HEALS SICK, HALT LAME AND BLIND

An Evangelical Christian Bishop Works Miracles Before Multitudes.

SIGHT IS RESTORED

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—Bishop Oliver Sabin, of the Evangelical Christian Science church was overwhelmed with people desiring to be healed at Rauscher's hall on Connecticut avenue, yesterday, when he cured the halt, the lame and the blind. More than 100 persons begged him to touch them with his hand or pray for them. Bishop Sabin cures by mental suggestion and the laying on of the hands."

Bishop Sabin announced Saturday that he would hold forth at Rauscher's Sunday morning, in the very heart of the fashionable Northwest for the purpose of healing the sick. Long before the appointed hour arrived a multitude of people assembled. There were people with all sorts of ailments.

Bishop Sabin, unless his spectators were hypnotized, performed a miracle on Mrs. F. J. Maney, of 614 Nineteenth street, Northwest.

Mrs. Maney came to the meeting with eyes bandaged and apparently blind. She told the newspaper men present that she had not seen out of either eye for weeks.

Cured by Wave of Hand.

She was led to a window, the bandages lifted and asked to make an effort to see. She declared that she could not tell whether it was day or night. Mr. Sabin ran his hands over her face and head and she opened her eyes and saw. Again she was led to the window and asked to point out certain things. She called the name of everything in sight. Her eyes seem to be all right.

The crowd was skeptical. Some of those present declared that Sabin had put up a job on them.

Mrs. Annie Reed, 3426 Fourteenth street, Northwest, an old woman, came to the meeting leaning on a stick. She had been a sufferer from rheumatism for years and was, she said, a hopeless cripple. But after Mr. Sabin ran his hand up and down her back and over her head a number of times she threw her cane away and walked to the street car without it.

Some Gave Only First Names.

The other patients treated would not give their full names. Bishop Sabin told them that the first names would suffice to get the benefit of his prayers and treatment.

Nannie and Leonora were two other women, and John and Charles, two men, treated. One of the women suffered from a nagging and persistent headache. She had it then. Bishop Sabin cured her. Charles had rheumatism in one foot. Bishop Sabin cured him.

Bishop Sabin asserts that "the cures are genuine" and says "there is no faking about them: no fraud whatever."

About twenty-five persons in the audience were eagerly clamoring to be cured when he ended today with the announcement that he was exhausted.

HURT PLAYING FOOTBALL GAME

Fairmount Youth Injured in Scrimmage, Paralyzed and May Die.

HAS A BROKEN BACK

Alexandria, Ind., Nov. 6.—Hovering between life and death as the result of a football accident, Bruce Adams, aged 23, lies at the Alexandria hospital, his spinal vertebra being fractured and his entire lower limbs paralyzed. His arms are also partly paralyzed.

Adams, who was a member of the Fairmount athletic football team, was playing the Alexandria Tigers yesterday afternoon when he was caught under a number of players in a scrimmage. When the players arose to take position in line Adams remained unconscious on the ground. It was soon seen he was badly hurt and he was removed to the hospital at once and the game called off. His recovery is doubtful.

ANOTHER WARRIOR NEAR DEATH.

Anderson, Ind., Nov. 6.—With three ribs broken and a pierced lung Dick Brown, 20, a member of the Anderson Brock football team, was not expeted to recover at a hospital today. Brown was injured in a "pile-up" in a game with th Middletown team yeeterday.

NO RUSH TO THE POSTAL SAVINGS

First Month's Deposits in Fort Wayne Amount to But $778.

ACCOUNTS TOTAL 41

There has been on precipitate rush to patronize the United States postal savings service in Fort Wayne. With the close of business Saturday evening, constituting practically one month of the bank's existence, the deposits had reached a total of only $778, and the depositors number forty-one persons.

The largest single deposit has been $100, and the smallest $1, there being a considerable number of the latter denomination. The funds have been apportioned on deposit among the four Fort Wayne national banks which qualified as depositaries for the postal savings funds.

Thus far the experience of the postal savings department in Fort Wayne has been not unlike that of other cities in the middle west, in none of which have the deposits run up to any considerable figure. Local postal authorities, however, say they believe the patronage of the institution will grow steadily but slowly.

YOUNG PEOPLE ELOPE AND WED

James Clarkson, 18, and Bessie Fisher, 17, Married in Sturgis.

SEND WORD BY WIRE

Miss Bessie Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Fisher, of 1724 Howell street, and James Clark, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis M. Clark, of 1636 West Main street, eloped to Sturgis, Mich., on Saturday and after being married there telegraphed the bride's parents the same evening. The bride is but 17 years old and the bridegroom, who is employed at the General Electric Lamp works on Holman street, is 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher had opposed the marriage on account of the youth of both their daughter and the young man.

Mrs. Fisher said this morning in talking about the elopement that they had no objections to the young man except for his youth. "We had urged them to wait until they had something to get married on," said Mrs. Fisher, "and naturally under the circumstances we are not at all pleased."

The bride and groom have not yet returned home.

EVANSVILLE JURIST DIES.

Rush of Candidates for Place Held by Judge Debruler.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 6.—Circuit Judge Curran D. Debruler, one of the best known lawyers of southern Indiana, died here this morning after an attack of paralysis last Friday. He had been in precarious health and unable to occupy the bench much of the time for the last year. He was elected in 1908 and his term runs three years more.

Much interest attaches to the appoint of a successor by Governor Marshall and six men are already mentioned as candidates, they being H. M. Logsdon, William Blakey, John W. Spencer, J. E. Williamson, Duncan C. Givens and Edwin C. Taylor.

New York, Nov. 6.—All grades of refined sugar were reduced 10 cents a hundred pounds today.

DETECTIVE HELD FOR KILLING MAN

Evansville Officer Shot One to Death and Badly Wounds Third.

A SIDEWALK DISPUTE

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 6.—Detective William Wilson, one of the oldest members of the Evansville police department, who shot and killed W. J. Walters and seriously wounded Robert R. Finley yesterday after a dispute over the right to occupy a sidewalk, was held this forenoon on an affidavit charging first degree murder.

Coroner Stemper and Police Chief Covey are investigating the case thoroughly and expect to have enough evidence by 4 o'clock this afternoon to determine, in the preliminary hearing set for that hour, whether Wilson shall be held without bond or whether the charge shall be reduced to manslaughter.

Wilson claims self-defense and one or two witnesses said they saw one of the men whom the detective encountered make a motion as if to draw a revolver.

POINCE MENDING RAPIDLY.

Man Who Attempted to Break Jail Is Recovering From Injuries.

Delbert Poince, who broke both legs in an attempt to escape from the county jail some time ago on the morning he was about to have been taken to the penitentiary and who has been a patient at St. Joseph's hospital since he was injured, is now able to sit up in a wheel chair and his condition has so far improved that he can be removed to the penitentiary very soon. Poince suffered a fracture of the right leg and a compound fracture of the left leg, and it was thought at first that the left leg might have to be amputated as the bones protruded through the skin. The right leg has mended entirely and Poince is able to stand on it, while the left leg is doing nicely.

Poince is under sentence of from two to fourteen years in the penitentiary and despite his injuries was placed under close guard when first taken to the hospital. He was later transferred to a detention room and the guard dispensed with. No visitors are allowed to see him.

FIRST OF GARY BOODLE TRIALS

Cases Involving Mayor Knotts Are Opened in Valparaiso.

CITY ENGINEER FIRST

Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 6.—Trial of the first of the so-called Gary bribery cases, involving Mayor Thomas E. Knotts and other officials of Gary, Ind., is to begin this afternoon before Special Judge Vernon Van Fleet, of Elkhart, sitting in the Porter county circuit court here.

C. M. Williston, city engineer of Gary, will be the first of the defendants tried. It is expected that three days will be occupied in assembling a jury.

The principal prosecuting witness will be T. B. Dean, who made affidavits charging the defendants with bribery in letting to him a heating franchise and who has said he has dictagraph records to prove his allegations.

The cases were brought into this county through change of venue proceeding by the defendants, who pleaded that they could not obtain an impartial trial in Lake county, in which Gary is situated.

CHIEF WITNESS COMES IN.

Hammond, Ind., Nov. 6.—T. B. Dean, chief witness in charges of accepting bribes against Mayor Knotts and six councilmen of Gary indicted for which a warrant charging perjury had been issued, came here today and gave himself up. He gave bond to appear Nov. 25. He then left for Valparaiso, where the charges against the officials are to be heard.

Mr. Dean declared by coming here to be arrested he had defeated a plan of the indicted officials at Crownpoint to cause his arrest at the Valparaiso hearing and to gain credit by discrediting him.

HE ONCE LIVED IN HUNTINGTON

Eastern Youth Gets Prize For Unique Moral Record.

NEVER KISSED GIRL

Ludlow, Mass., Nov. 6.—Howard U. Bennett, of Ludlow Center, who formerly lived in Huntington, Ind., has just been given recognition for his unique record.

He has never used a profane word, never smoked or chewed tobacco, never touched a drop of liquor and never kissed a girl outside his own family. A fund established by Charles D. Rood, a wealthy resident of this city, to encourage good habits among the young men of the town, has just been drawn upon to reward Bennett.

Bennett's prize was a gold watch, suitably inscribed, presented to him upon his twenty-first birthday anniversary.

SENDS CARS TO LAFAYETTE.

Traction Company Preparing for Rush at Battle Ground.

C. E. Palmer, superintendent of transportation of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction system, today ordered a number of street cars from the reserve supply in this city sent to Lafayette. They are for use in handling the crowds at Battle Ground tomorrow, where Gen. William Henry Harrison's battle with the Indians will be reproduced in celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of that event. Owing to the narrow bridges at Lafayette only the smaller type of Fort Wayne cars can be used there.

PENNSYLVANIA SPEAKER DIES.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 6.—John F. Cox, speaker of the Pennsylvania house of representatives died suddenly today at his home in Homestead.

A WARSHIP IS SENT TO TRIPOLI

United States Will Make Inquiry Into Charges by Turkey.

ATEROCITIES ALLEGED

Washington, Nov. 6.—Under orders from the state department, transmitted through the navy department, the Chester, which had been lying at Malta for some time, sailed this morning for Tripoli.

The officials here refused to make any statement as to her mission, but it is believed that the purpose is to ascertain at first hand the truth respecting the charges that the Italian troops have perpetrated barbarities upon the Turks and Arabs.

Technically the port of Tripoli is under a blockade, duly proclaimed by the Italian government and under the rules of war the Chester can only enter the harbor and make a landing with the consent of the Italian officer in command of the port. It is not known whether or not this permission will be granted.

TURKEY ASKS INTERVENTION.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The so-called "Italian barbarities" in Tripoli finally have been brought officially to the attention of the American government in such form that some declaration of the position of the state department in the matter now is expected.

The subject was broached first in the course of a verbal statement by the Turkish ambassador to Acting Secretary Adee, and later in the day in the shape of a letter.

In each case the ambassador, who declared he was acting by express cabled instructions from his government, described in detail the acts attributed to the Italian troops and protested in the name of humanity against the alleged barbarities inflicted upon helpless women and children and noncombatants by the infuriated Italian soldiers.

By order of his government the ambassador appealed to the United States to exert itself to put a stop to practices that, he declared were in plain violation of the rules of warfare and in contravention of The Hague convention to which the United States and Italy are parties.

Acting Secretary Adee promised to submit the protest to Secretary Knox, who at present is absent from Washington.

The ambassador's note was based upon a cablegram from the Turkish minister for foreign affairs.

Supplementing this cablegram came another from the Turkish foreign office later in the day, which was also transmitted to the state department. This is regarded as of great importance, because it formally demands intervention by the United States. It reads as follows:

"The Italian atrocities in Tripoli being confirmed officially and from every quarter, I beg your excellency to reiterate the expressions prescribed in my preceding telegram to insist upon the necessity of prompt and efficacious intervention, in order to put an end immediately to these inhuman proceedings."

Frank Havens, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Alliance, Ohio, is in the city visiting his daughter, Mrs. P. M. Griffin, 610 Poplar street.

WILL PRESENT BRIDGE PLANS

North Side Committee to Submit Project Tuesday Afternoon.

AT JOINT MEETING

Plans of the North Side Civic Improvement association for the long-sought bridge across the St. Mary's river at Barthold street will be submitted to various city and county authorities Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in a joint conference to be held at the court house assembly room.

Letters were sent out today inviting the presence of the board of works, the board of park commissioners, the river front commission, the city engineer, the county council, the county commissioners, the Playgrounds association and Civic Improvement association to hear the report which will be submitted by the rbidge committee of the North Side association.

At this time the north siders will present sketches and arguments in support of the movement for the bridge at Barthold street in connection with other civic beautification work planned along the north bank of the St. Mary's river through the Bloomingdale district.

CAMPAIGN FOR BOYS.

Phase of Men and Religion Forward Movement.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 6.—For the purpose of carrying out the program of boys' work as outlined in the men and religious forward movement campaign in this city, a class of nearly fifty Sunday school teachers and workers is studying under the direction of F. A. Crosby, of Chicago. The class meets weekly and at the close of the series it is probable a big campaign for boys will be started by South Bend churches. A boys' commission has also been organized to direct boys' work in South Bend churches and religious institutions.

and he made a fine flourish with the case.

"Oh, that's the old Walker place," said a friend.

"Yes," agreed the president, "that's the place."

After obtaining his certificate the president was driven to the office of his brother, C. P. Taft, where he chatted for a few minutes and later was driven to Mr. Taft's home, where he will stop during his stay here. The plans for his trip were changed slightly again today. Instead of leaving Cincinnati tomorrow night the president will leave early Wednesday morning and will stop on the way to Frankfort, Ky., at Paris, Ky., for a half hour.

MRS. H. C. STOLL CLAIMED BY DEATH

Wife of Pennsy. Police Captain Succumbs to Paralyis.

OTHER DEATHS TODAY

Mrs. Catherine Stoll, aged 46 years, 9 months and 18 days, wife of Henry C. Stoll, captain of the Pennsylvania police department, died this morning at 3:40 o'clock at the family residence, 246 Masterson avenue, following a stroke of paralysis, which she suffered last Thursday morning. Mrs. Stoll also suffered a stroke a year ago.

The deceased was born in Crestline, O., January 18th, 1865, and had been a resident of Fort Wayne for a number of years, and had a wide circle of friends in the city. She is survived by her husband and three sisters, Mrs. James Sullivan, of Toledo; Mrs. D. Curran, of Lima, O., and Miss Annie Barton, and three brothers, Daniel Barton, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Maurice Barton, of Crestline, O., and Thomas Barton, of Chicago.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence. Interment at Lindenwood cemetery. Services private.

HOGAN.

Mrs. Mary Hogan, aged 60 years, wife of Hugh T. Hogan, died Sunday afternoon at the family residence, 354 Baker street, of a complication of diseases following a brief illness. Mrs. Hogan became ill four days ago, but her condition was not regarded as critical, and plans were being discussed for her to take a trip in the hope that a change of climate would benefit her health. Her condition became alarming Sunday noon and death followed at 5 o'clock in the evening.

The deceased was born near Mansfield, O., August 29, 1851, and was formerly Miss Mary Fitzgibbons. She was united in marriage to Hugh T. Hogan April 29, 1873. Four children were born to the union and they with the husband survive her. The children are: Mrs. Gustave Steiglitz, of Bedford, Ind.; Hugh Hogan, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Frank M. Hogan, of Bedford, and Henry G. Hogan, city attorney, of Fort Wayne. The deceased was a member of the Cathedral congregation.

Funeral services Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from the Cathedral.

HIRSCHMANN.

Miss Clara Hirschmann, aged 17 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hirschmann, died Sunday morning at 6:30 o'clock at the family residence, 3225 Victoria avenue. Death was due to sarcoma, following an illness of one year. The deceased prior to her illness was one of the most ardent workers in the congregation of St. John's Reformed church, and was also a member of the Young Ladies' Guild. She is survived by the parents, three sisters, Mrs. Fred Schroeder, Mina and Louise Hirschmann, and two brothers, August and Charles Hirschmann.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the residence, thence to St. John's Reformed church at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. Bosch officiating. Interment at Lindenwood cemetery.

HARDING.

Mrs. Alice K. Harding, aged 31 years, wife of Rachel Harding, a prominent farmer of Milan township, died Saturday evening at 9:20 o'clock at Hope hospital, where she had been a patient for the past three weeks. Death was due to spinal meningitis, following an illness of six years duration. Mrs. Harding was a patient in a Chicago hospital all summer.

The deceased was born in Allen county and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Brooks, her father being a prominent farmer in Milan township. Surviving relatives include the husband and three children, Ross, Crystal and Thelma, aged three; the father and four sisters, Mrs. Robert M. Doran, of Iowa; Mrs. Mary Leighner and Mrs. Samuel Smith, both of Milan township, and Miss Minerva N. Brooks, of Chicago, who is a student in a training school in that city.

Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the residence, in Milan township, thence to the Taylor chapel at 2 o'clock. Interment at Bower's cemetery.

REAR.

Mrs. Alvina Rear, wife of Eben Rear, a painter and paperhanger, died Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the residence, 132 Brackenridge street, at the age of 55 years. Death was due to chronic nephritis, following an extended illness. Surviving relatives include the husband and one son, Claude J. Rear, and two sisters, Mrs. Theodore Buchtel and Mrs. Jonathan Keehn, of Ligonier, and a brother, Harry Shobe, of Wolcottville.

Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, Rev. Todd, of the West Jefferson street Church of Christ, officiating. Services private. Interment at Lindenwood cemetery.

FERGUSON.

James Ferguson, a pioneer blacksmith and horseshoer, died at 7:50 o'clock this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dora Grant, 1209 Columbia avenue. Mr. Ferguson was 80 years old. His wife died several years ago. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Grant and May Funk, and three sons, James, John and Walter. There are five grandchildren.

Mr. Ferguson worked for the city at his trade for many years, but had not done active work for six years.

MERRILLET.

John Merrillet, a pioneer resident of Fort Wayne, died Sunday morning at 2:10 o'clock at the family residence, 1417 Boone street, at the age of 68 years, following an illness of one year.

The deceased was born in Switzerland March 26, 1845, and came to Fort Wayne when a small boy. During the civil war he served as private in company B, 48th volunteers. He is survived by a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Otto Zideler, of Cleveland, and two sisters, Mrs. D. Miller, of Missouri, and Mrs. Adeline Lomley, of this city.

The Woman's Relief Corps will conduct flag services at the home at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, preceding the funeral, at which Rev. C. O. Shirey will officiate. Interment at Lindenwood cemetery.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Meyer.—Funeral services for William C. Meyer will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 1417 Wilt street, thence to the Emanuel Lutheran church at 2:15 o'clock, Rev. Wm. Moll officiating. Interment at Lindenwood cemetery.

PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER OF WIFE

with her. Early in the morning he visited a saloon in the neighborhood and drank a small quantity of beer.

In the meantime the members of the household, which consisted of the wife and two of her nieces, had taken up the duties of the day and Mrs. Nolan was over a washtub at the rear of the house. He passed through the back door and fired one shot at his wife and she dropped dead in her tracks.

Nolan then turned his weapon on himself and fired. He dropped to the ground and after rolling in seeming great agony, feigned unconsciousness, if not death. But the approach of officers roused him and he fled. He had scarcely scratched himself with the bullet.

He then ran from the scene of his crime and was pursued by the police, and caught near the Pennsylvania round house. He has made no public statement of the crime and when an attempt was made to interview him he took refuge behind the answer that he could not remember anything about it.

Special Plea of Insanity.

From the city court he was taken to the county jail the next day and he has since been confined there. A short time ago Somers and Kennerk and Judge S. L. Morris, who had been engaged to defend him, entered a special plea of insanity and the case was set down for a hearing in December.

Later overtures were made to Prosecutor Albert E. Thomas, who agreed to permit him to enter a plea of guilty to second degree murder and this was carried out quietly this afternoon. There was another trial on in the court room at the time and few people were aware that a murder case was having a hearing.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

Thomas M. Myers, an electrical engineer associated with J. J. Wood in the manufacture of Audiffren ice machinery, will leave on Wednesday for New York and Danville, Va. On November 29 Mr. Myers will be married to Miss Eleanor P. Vass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fitzhugh Vass. Miss Vass is a descendant of old Virginia families. Upon his return here Mr. Myers and his bride will occupy an apartment at the Portland. Mr. Myers' own home is in New York.

Miss Helen Kelly, of South Calhoun street, entertained a house party of guests over the week-end. The honor guests were Miss Gwenn Hubbard, Miss Roma and Miss Norma Stafford and Miss Beatrice Skyles, of Detroit, Mich., and the town guests were Misses Blanche Trimble, Irma Brannan and Bernice Weston.

A recent pretty party was that at the home of Miss Helen Euslen, of Fairfield avenue. The rooms were decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, pumpkin faces and make-believe witches and ghosts. Twenty young people enjoyed a merry evening. A fine supper was served the company.

Mrs. Effie Brokaw Johnson, of Decatur, who had been visiting Mrs. S. F. Bowser; Misses Sadie Cook, Anna Waters, Verne Pfeiffer, Della Jamey, Della and Blanch Kern, Ruth, Grace and Stella Waters, left yesterday for Garrett to visit a sister who lives there.

CITY BREVITIES.

Mrs. Charles Hilker, of Walton avenue, and G. French, of Amboy, Ind., underwent operations at the Lutheran hospital today.

FORT WAYNE YOUNG PEOPLE ELOPE TO MICHIGAN AND WED

MR. AND MRS. JAMES CLARK.

James Clark, 18, of West Main street, and Miss Bessie Fisher, 17, of Howell street, quietly slipped away to Sturgis, Mich., Saturday, and were wed. Then they advised friends by telegraph of the romantic culmination of their love match.

MRS. VERMILYA UNDER ARREST

Alleged Poisoner Formally Charged With Death of Policeman.

HEARING IN CHAMBER

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Louise Vermilya, charged with the murder of Policeman Arthur Bissonette, was formally placed under arrest today. Afterwards she remained quietly on her bed during a preliminary hearing held in her home.

After a debate, the hearing was postponed to Nov. 28 and a mittimus issued ordering her committed to the county jail hospital. The hearing was held in Mrs. Vermilya's home, owing to her illness, Municipal Judge Walker and the court attaches all crowding into the little bed room. She manifested little interest in the proceedings, languidly answering necessary questions.

Mrs. Vermilya was ready today to leave her home, where she has been under guard, and become a prisoner in the county hospital. Her alleged attempt at suicide by calmly sprinkling her food with an arsenical preparation resembling pepper convinced the police she would be safer under their direct watch than in her home. Municipal Judge Walker, who issued the warrant for Mrs. Vermilya's arrest, consented to hold court in her room before her removal to a hospital and she was arraigned while still in bed. It was only the formal presentment to the widow of the accusation of Peter Bissonette, brother of the dead patrolman, that she murdered his brother. Then came the commitment without taking of testimony.

Some New Testimony.

Testimony from a new source was given the coroner today. Miss Elizabeth Nolan, who was Frank Brinkamp's sweetheart and who passed much of her time at his home before his death, said Brinkamp had feared he was being poisoned, that he though his father, Charles Brinkamp, had been poisoned and wanted to investigate his death. Her testimony resulted in an announcement from Coroner Hoffman that he would exhume Frank Brinkamp's body at once.

Miss Nolan also brought the name of C. C. Boysen, an undertaker, into her story as having been a prospective husband of Mrs. Varmilya's.

A life insurance policy for $2,000 on Frank Brinkamp's life, she said, had been put into Boysen's hands to collect. "She wanted to marry Boysen, but he could not marry her," said Miss Nolan.

"Did she take him to Europe?"

FEW WOMEN CAN VOTE.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—California women generally will not be permitted to participate in elections held this year, owing to a state law that registration must close forty days before election. Women cannot vote at the municipal election tomorrow for that reason. The Los Angeles municipal elections, which take place Dec. 5, permits time for women voters to legally register. Several small towns are similarly affected, but in the majority of California cities women will not vote at municipal elections this year.

The difference is caused by municipal charters fixing different election dates.

DECATUR NEWS.

Decatur, Ind., Nov. 6.—The Herald office has gone into the hands of a receiver. Mismanagement is assigned as the cause and a lack of finances. The manager, C. D. Landis, has apparently left for parts unknown. It is the decision of L. A. Graham, the receiver appointed by court, to conduct the plant as before till some disposal is made of it.

Mr. and Mrs. James Watts, who have been making their home in Fort Wayne the past summer, have returned to their former home at Monmouth to reside. Their son-in-law, Martin Marhenke, and Dick Hill and families, who have also lived in Fort Wayne, will return to make their homes here within a few weeks.

Miss Ireta Irwin has returned from Monroeville, where she visited a week with relatives.

Ed Moses, who injured his foot badly when a base burner which he was moving fell on it, is able to be out again.

Mrs. A. A. Kist and son, Robert, are the guests of W. G. Kist and Mrs. A. R. Bell.

Mrs. Coy Martz and children, Bessie and Hester, have returned to Grabill after a visit with the Hill and Scheumann families.

James Carrier, who for the past year has been employed in a large tinplate works at Pittsburg, Pa., has arrived home for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carrier, south of the city.

Howard Foughty, whose parents long ago secured a divorce, has by petition of the defendant been given to the father with the limitation that the mother be allowed often to be with the child.

Dr. J. Q. Neptune is home from the northern woods of Michigan, where with others a hunting party was formed.

Miss Golda Teeters, who came here from Elkhart, filed an affidavit against Mrs. Amanda Homrick charging her with assault and battery. Later the defendant pleaded guilty and paid her fine. She was released and later filed a charge of provoke against Miss Teeters.

SURELY BREAKS UP A BAD COLD

Most Severe Cold or the Grippe Relieved in Several Hours.

It is a postive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken will cure Grippe or break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

You distinctly feel the cold breaking and all the disagreeable grippe symptoms leaving after the very first dose. It promptly ends the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply. adv

WILL DETERMINE HOW TO PROCEED

Committee to Devise Best Method in Civic Beautification Work.

BIG MEETING HELD

The Fort Wayne Civic Improvement association, in its annual meeting held Saturday evening at the court house assembly room, directed the appointment of a special committee of ten to act jointly with city officials in devising the wisest methods to pursue in putting into early effect the movement for river purification, river beautification, sewerage disposal, river bank improvement and beautification, boulevard building and park extension for the city of Fort Wayne along lines mapped out by Metcalf & Eddy and George E. Kessler.

The committee will be named within a short time by C. H. Worden, president of the Civic Improvement association. There was a very large attendance and marked interest in the annual meeting, at which officers were elected, and Leonard P. Metcalf and George E. Kessler outlined and illustrated with stereopticon pictures something of the improvements which have been planned for Fort Wayne.

Resolution Is Adopted.

The resolution providing for the special committee was introduced by Col. D. N. Foster and was adopted as follows:

"Whereas, The report of Messrs. Metcalf & Eddy upon the questions of river purification, river utilization, and a system of sewerage and sewage disposal for a period of forty years to come, and the report of Landscape Architect George E. Kessler upon a system of river bank improvement and beautification, boulevard building and park extension, are most elaborate and complete, requiring much study of detail to fully comprehend them; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That a special committee of ten members of this association, which number shall include the president and secretary of this body, be appointed by the chair, which committee shall in co-operation with the executive committee of this association, the River Front Improvement commission, the board of park commissioners and the board of public works, proceed at once with a view to devising the wisest methods of procedure for the speedy commencement of the work of carrying out in the early years to come of the recommendations and plans contained within the reports named."

Officers Are Chosen.

The assemblage adopted the report of the nominating committee, submitted by T. F. Thieme, chairman, and elected the following officers for the new year:

Executive Board — C. H. Worden, president; S. M. Foster, vice president; R. B. Hanna, secretary; W. H. Scheiman, treasurer; H. J. Rahe, Louis Fox, C. R. Lane, W. E. Mossman, L. D. Redding.

Board of Directors—Prof. L. W. Dorn, president East Side Maumee River Civic Improvement association; H. W. Lepper, secretary East Side Maumee River Civic Improvement association; Robert E. Kelly, president North Side Civic Improvement association; Chas. J. Steiss, secretary North Side Civic Improvement association; Anselm Fuelber, president Seventh and Tenth Ward Civic Improvement association; D. C. Stout, secretary Seventh and Tenth Ward Civic Improvement association; J. O. Brown, president Nebraska Civic Improvement association; A. P. Leverton, secretary Nebraska Civic Improvement association; Gustave Berghoff, H. W. Wardrop, George Haffner, Rabbi William Rice, C. H. Worden, Wm. Schweir, Henry Cohen, R. B. Hanna, Dr. L. P. Drayer, W. H. Scheiman, H. C. Paul, Robert Millard, S. M. Foster, S. B. Fleming, J. H. Base, L. D. Redding, J. C. Hutzell, John Daley, W. E. Mossman, R. H. Hudson, Albert Bond, T. F. Rockhill, R. S. Taylor, Mrs. R. S. Taylor, Marx Dukes, H. G. Hogan, Mrs. C. M. Dawson, S. K. Blair, M. O. Ginty, Mrs. Ella Foster, Dr. E. J. McOscar, Elmer St. John, Dr. M. F. Porter, William P. Breen, L. F. Curdes, Dr. Maurice Rosenthal, Louis Fox, C. A. Dunkleburg, W. F. Hornberger, Isidor Lehman, J. M. Henry, W. D. Henderson, C. R. Lane, Coony Bayer, M. E. Rice, A. J. Moynihan, E. C. Rurode, Van B. Perrine, C. F. Bicknell, Abe Ackerman, M. F. Maroney, Herman C. W. Mackwitz, William M. Griffin, W. J. Hosey, C. R. Colney, Maurice Niezer, P. A. Randall, C. S. Bash, E. A. K. Hackett, Harry Fletcher, O. N. Guildlin, Fred Shoaff, A. E. Carroll, Charles A. Wilding, Charles A. Bond, J. P. Evans, J. M. Barrett, F. L. Smock, Henry R. Freeman, James M. McKay, Ewd. G. Hoffman, O. S. Hanna, J. M. Landenberger, A. H. Perfect, George Beers, F. S. Hunting, August Goers, Mrs. M. B. Fisher, J. B. Ronss, Mrs. Anna Rothschild, Lee J. Ninde, Herman Freiberger, W. H. Shambaugh, Charles J. Scheiman, Mrs. I. N. Taylor, W. J. Vesey, L. J. Libbing, Mrs. William Griffith, Oscar Tresselt, Charles McCulloch, Jesse Grice, Rt. Rev. Herman J. Alerding, E. W. Cook, Albert Melching, Eugene Troendle, J. A. Haley, H. P. Scherer, Frederick Klein, Rev. J. F. Delaney, Rev. Philip Wambsganss, W. H. Kruse, S. S. Fisher, Gart Shober.

Its Financial Statement.

Financial receipts of the association, including contributions ranging from $1 to $100 each, amounted during the past year to a total of $1,756.50, while the expenditures were $1,716.29, leaving a cash balance of $40.21 on hand. Expenditures were for postage, stationery, supplies, printing, lectures, trip of city officials to Indianapolis, printing of Charles Mulford Robinson's report, stereopticon service, maps, blue prints and similar matters.

Leonard P. Metcalf, of the firm of Metcalf & Eddy, Boston, was the first speaker of the evening, who urged that the city begin the work of beautification of the rivers within the next two years. He described at some length the plan prepared by his firm for the improved sewerage system for Fort Wayne, and the dam which it is proposed to construct at the junction of the St. Mary's and the St. Joseph rivers. Mr. Metcalf repeated his earlier declaration that the dam would not aggravate flood conditions in time of high water. He illustrated his talk by means of stereopticon slides showing the condition of the rivers in flood season, maps of the sewerage system, general contour of the river beds, etc.

Says It Will "Pay" Handsomely.

Another entertaining feature of the meeting was the address of George E. Kessler, the expert landscape architect, designer of the world's fair grounds at St. Louis and beautifier of more than a score of cities. Mr. Kessler, retained some time ago to prepare a plan for systematic development of the park and boulevard system and river front beautification in Fort Wayne, gave the big audience an insight into what he has mapped out for Fort Wayne.

He prefaced his remarks by the declaration that Fort Wayne is extremely fortunate in having the three rivers as a natural opportunity for civic beautification, and asserted that the returns upon improvement of this character would be immediate and substantial. Mr. Kessler said that while the work will require an immense sum of money to complete it, property values will at once respond to the beautified conditions and the city will never regret the step it has taken.

Mr. Kessler showed by means of the stereopticon his plans for the development of parkways and drives along the river banks in Fort Wayne, and to illustrate possibilities in this direction gave views of some of the work of this character in Kansas City and at other points. He declared Fort Wayne has an exceptional opportunity which it should lose no time in taking advantage of; that upon the beautification of the river banks, the development of a park and boulevard system, the purification of the rivers and the improved sewerage system much of the future growth of the city depends.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"DEAR OLD BILLY."

Funny Farce That Kept Chicago Laughing Last Summer Tomorrow Night.

Since the days of "The Private Secretary," "Jane" and "Charley's Aunt," the theater-goers of America have not been presented with any product of the pen of English farce writers to compare with "Dear Old Billy," which is the starring vehicle of that eminent English character, William Hawtrey, who, with his distinguished company of London players, will be seen at the Majestic tomorrow evening. "Dear Old Billy" comes to us with exactly the same company and production that recently closed a run of nearly four months in Chicago, where the critics were unanimous in designating it as one of the speediest and most wholesomely funny farces seen in years.

ROBERT HILLIARD.

He Comes in "A Fool There Was" Next Friday Evening.

Robert Hilliard, one of the most distinguished dramatic stars of the time, will appear under Klaw & Erlanger's direction at the Majestic on Friday evening in "A Fool There Was." Everyone with any knowledge of the stage knows what a sensation this powerful, intense actor created during the past three seasons in the curious and fascinating drama. Mr. Hilliard is a player of power and distinction. He has climbed to his loftiest heights in "A Fool There Was," a play like no other, inspired by Rudyard Kipling's vivid verse of the vampire woman and her victim. This poem was suggested by Sir Philip Burne-Jones' world famous painting. The story depicts the downfall of a big man—socially, financially and in the political world. A sirenic creature of hypnotic allurement drags him down to the depths. Tense, gripping, tremendously dramatic is "A Fool There Was," but something more. It has buoyant comedy, charming pictures of wholesome life and flashes of witty epigram.

"The Deep Purple" Saturday Matinee and Night.

Liebler & Co.'s production of "The Deep Purple," one of their most important attractions of the season, will be seen at the Majestic next Saturday matinee and night. It is a play by Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner. It is to be understood that the play contains a number of interesting and more or less attractive bad men, who are mingled with a number of good folk in a way to furnish a plausible, exciting story capped by a number of thrilling climaxes. "Alias Jimmy Valentine," written by Paul Armstrong, one of the new play's authors, shows with what success a trick of this sort can be turned.

To interpret this new play of New York's underworld, Liebler & Co. have gathered together a company of unusual excellence.

THE NEXT STEP IS MONEY.

Fort Wayne now has in hand the engineering plans upon which will be based the dual scheme of improvement of the city. Enlargement and improvement of the sewer system and beautification of the rivers as well as development of a park and boulevard system are embraced in these plans. Of the necessity of sewer improvements there can be no division of opinion. The rapid growth of the city and the constant defilement of the streams take this issue out of the province of discussion and force it to the front as something that must be done sooner or later and the sooner the better. The beautification scheme, while not imperative, is in every way to be desired. It will make Fort Wayne a finer and better city, add to the pleasures of its people, increase the value of all property in and near the city, vouchsafe future cleanliness of the water courses and vastly enlarge the repute of the community as a place of residence and business. The problem is no longer what in the one case must be and in the other ought to be done, but to procure the means with which to go forward with the great work. To this question the city government, the improvement associations and the people generally ought now to address themselves with all seriousness. It will take what in the aggregate is a large sum to carry out the essential features of what is in mind. As the work cannot be done in a day, so the means need not be provided in a day. The burden can be distributed through the coming years and so fall hard upon nobody. But precedent to the work itself must be the getting of means to do the work. The splendid scheme of betterments is up to the people of Fort Wayne.

TOMORROW'S ELECTIONS.

Tomorrow's elections will re-echo or refute Mr. Taft's melancholy numbers at the end of his Chicago speeches. Off-year campaigns do not invariably forecast national contests, but the result in the state battles now to be determined will disclose whether the progressive democratic and insurgent republican tendencies of the past three years are continued and with what access of strength. For instance, in Massachusetts, the republicans under the leadership of Senator Lodge have persisted in conducting their campaign on national issues—standpatism on the tariff, opposition to reciprocity with Canada and the position that the old guard embodies what is best and safest in party leadership. The other states do not present national issues so sharply defined, but democratic victories would add greatly to the already increased prestige of that party. It is to Massachusetts, however, that the country will look for the most definite clue to the state of public feeling. The suppression of state issues and making the tariff question paramount in a purely local contest will bring out in clear relief the status of New England opinion as to that issue upon which according to all signs and all views the great battle of next year will be fought and determined.

Turkey appeals to the United States to stop the atrocities of the soldiers of Italy in Tripoli. Turkey—the identical Turkey of the Armenian butcheries, of the Bulgarian massacres, of centuries of cruelty and murder in the name of her throne and religion—asks that Italy be stopped from further practice of excesses no civilized power would be guilty of. If Italian barbarities are such as to make Turkey squeal they must indeed be frightful and should be stopped.

There is every reason for the people of Fort Wayne—though it is still hard to say whether it interests them or not—to be encouraged by the progress the lake-to-lake waterways project has made. The national waterways commission has indicated the favor with which it looks upon the great scheme, the army engineers have given a hint of the views they have been compelled by examination to take, and many members of the United States senate and the lower branch of congress are either its staunch advocates or at least favorable to a complete survey. No great scheme of improvement has ever moved with better speed or more signal results than this waterway enterprise.

Mr. Sun Yat Sen, the world-around Chinese revolutionary agitator, may not at this time get all he is after, but he is in fair way to get the bulk of it. A Chinese republic is not perhaps a probability of the immediate future, though it looks as if the substance if not the form is about to be realized. The big insurgent of the Chinese will probably complete his program in the next trouble he foments.

The Chinese revolution continues to spread. There is evidently a very practical opinion in the bosom of the rebels that the time to get farther along is while the dynasty is on the run and yelping for mercy. The apologies of the throne and the new constitution do not seem to have entirely filled the bill. The republic may yet emerge from the smoke and dust of conflict.

Massachusetts—there she stands. But whether standpatting or in some other attitude of political thought the oncoming election will show in a few days. Even Senator Lodge has conceded that a standpat defeat will be a harbinger of evil and a precursor of calamity for his party in the greater conflict a year hence.

The dirigible balloon that was designed and is expected to cross the Atlantic signalized a trial trip that started beautifully by getting fast in a mud flat on the Jersey Coast. And a mud flat is not the blue and brimy deep some hundreds of miles from shore.

We have the plans, we have the need, have we the money, too? The big improvement schemes have gone about as far as they can be carried without something considerable in the financial line.

There will be wailing in the temples of standpatism if Massachusetts keeps going in the direction Governor Foss started her.

THE PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY.

(Indianapolis News.)

Washington dispatches announce that supporters of Woodrow Wilson and Champ Clark will urge the democratic national committee to declare for the presidential preference primaries. In the republican party the LaFollette men are bringing the same pressure to bear. Of course, in both of these instances the advocacy has behind it personal interest. There can, however, be little doubt that there is a growing demand for more representative national conventions. This is indicated by the statement in the Washington dispatches that the Wilson and Clark supporters assert that "more than half of the delegates in the next democratic national convention will have been selected in this manner." Already in five states presidential primaries are required by law, and one or two of them provide pay for the delegates out of state revenues. The Texas legislature has really required the democratic state committee so to select the Texas delegates, and other southern states will follow the lead of the Texas democrats. In Missouri the Clark and the Folk supporters have agreed to fight it out at primaries.

The demand for presidential primaries is placed on the ground of majority rule. It is unfortunate that the primary has not always produced the results that were promised for it, and it remains to be seen whether the people of a state would give true expression of presidential preferences by this method. We do know that the old system is defective. Often delegates are only so many ballots in the hands of a voting manager.

It is expected that in both the republican and democratic committees there will be opposition to primaries, prompted by the belief that control of the convention can be more certainly had under the old system. We do not believe that Mr. Taft needs such control of the republican convention, as some of his friends seem to think is necessary. But is not a denial of a fair, open field an admission of fear? If, for instance, a majority of the republicans in this state really should want Mr. LaFollette, should not their delegates cast their ballots for him? In the democratic camp it seems that the Harmon people are much opposed to the primary. They believe that they can control the convention and nominate their man, though it is generally admitted that Wilson and Clark are more popular with the people.

CONGRESS AND THE PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY.

(Kansas City Star.)

The bill to be presented to congress for a federal presidential primary law will afford a test of true progressivism. Those who believe in popular government and who trust the people will vote for the enactment of such a law. Those who depend on secret machine methods will oppose its enactment.

Of course the bill as it is projected by progressives of both parties will encounter the objection that it is "unconstitutional." Every good thing is said to be against the constitution. But the constitution is not half as bad as it is represented to be by those who say they are its closest friends.

A national presidential primary certainly could not be as evasive of the constitution as is the entire system of national party conventions. The constitution provides an electoral college for choosing a president. We still have an electoral college; but it simply records what the conventions initiate and the people determine at the polls. The electoral college will prevail under the new proposed arrangement. The change will be simply that the people will initiate—that the people, and not the machines, will control the nominations.

The direct senatorial primaries within the several states are another instance of a change in the method of selecting high federal officials from that method contemplated in the constitution.

The move for a national presidential primary embodies the right principle in the right and practical form. It is right for both parties. It is non-partisan. Progressives of both parties in every state should insist that their senators and representatives vote for it—vote for it in time to control the nominations of 1912.

Professor Lindemann, of Emanuel's Lutheran school, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his professorship last evening.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger has forwarded donations from the churches of his diocese to the amount of $788.38 to the Charlestown sufferers.

The Gazette says someone will contest the election of H. F. Charles Stellhorn, the coroner-elect, on the ground that he is not a doctor. It is a Gazette "chestnut."

Frank Stouder, the Temple treasurer, advertises the opera and Lawrence Barrett in the suburban papers extensively and will get big patronage for his attractions from the outside.

The Young Ladies' association of the First Presbyterian church has been fortunate enough to engage Mrs. Emma P. Ewing to give a course of lessons in cookery at the church parlors, commencing Nov. 26.

The promoters of the gas well are going to sink another shaft, either at the Bass foundry or further south, where experts say there is gas. The flow of gas at the first well is insufficient for any particular use, save that it can be utilized to light the Berghoff brewery, and Mr. Herman Berghoff is now negotiating for its rental or purchase.

(Intended for Saturday, Nov. 4.)

The board of election canvassers met this morning to count the vote. Hon. Henry Monning was chosen chairman; Mr. Harry Metzgar, secretary, and Mr. George W. Brackenridge, reading clerk. The county and legislative officers-elect evince no interest in the count save to ascertain their majorities. Judge Hench was present all day and followed the official vote with accuracy. He says he is elected over Judge Chapin by 27 majority.

A small quantity of oil issues from the east end gas well.

The pastors played a star engagement in the late lamented election.

Mr. Lawrence Barrett will appear at the Temple tomorrow evening as Richelieu.

The republicans will hold a ratification meeting at the Academy of Music this evening.

Professor Dawson will render his recently produced "Niagara Falls" at the Grace church concert this evening.

The gatling gun squad has leased a room under the north end of the Robinson house and Capt. Harry Worden will establish an armory there.

Messrs. S. C. Lumbard and J. E. Graham paid the street car company $3.157 yesterday, being the amount of their insurance on the burned stables.

The promoters of the gas well are considering locations for a new well on South Broadway, in Nebraska, north of the jail and at the Bass foundry.

The official count shows the election of Judge A. A. Chapin over Judge S. M. Hench as judge of the superior court by a majority of 56 votes. The official majorities were: Congressman, Robert Lowry, 302; joint senator, I. B. McDonald, 1,453; senator, James M. Barrett, 1,737; representatives, William H. Shambaugh, 1,724, and Justin M. Darroch, 1,544; prosecuting attorney, James M. Robinson, 2,705; judge superior court, A. A. Chapin, 56; clerk, George W. Loag, 1,011; sheriff, DeGroff Nelson, 2,148; auditor, J. B. Niezer, 1,621; treasurer, Isaac Mowrer, 1,091; recorder, Milton M. Thompson, 1,707; surveyor, O. B. Wiley, 1,807; coroner, H. F. Charles Stellhorn, 1,457; commissioner, Henry Hartman, 1,330. Capt. White's majority over Judge Lowry in the district is 2,477.

BURNED IN EXPLOSION.

Auburn, Ind., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Sylvia Campbell, of Chicago, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. H. Sweeny, of this city, was the victim of what might have been a very serious accident at the home of the latter Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Campbell was working near a gasoline range when the cooking apparatus exploded. Burning vapor was thrown over the woman, and it was only her presence of mind that saved her from terrible injuries. Her arms were badly scorched before she fled from the fire.

Vapor Treatment for Catarrh

The HYOMEI vapor treatment is especially recommended in stubborn cases of chronic catarrh of long standing, but remember that the inhaler should be used daily as usual.

This treatment only takes a few minutes time before going to bed. Pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEI into a kitchen bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe for several minutes the vapor that arises.

You will be surprised at the results of this treatment; it makes the head feel fine and clear; you will sleep better, and that stuffed up feeling will gradually disappear.

This method is also used to break up the worst cold in the head over night.

A bottle of HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) costs 50 cents at Meyer Bros. Co., Four Drug Stores, and druggists everywhere. Complete outfit which includes the little pocket inhaler $1.00.

No stomach dosing; just breathe HYOMEI and cure catarrh and all diseases of the breathing organs. Free trial bottle by addressing Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

FARMERS HAVE BIG MEETING.

C. S. Bash and Capt. Campbell Speak at Hubler Chapel.

Addressing a splendid meeting that tested the capacity of Hubler chapel, on the Goshen road, Saturday evening, Charles S. Bash and Capt. Charles Campbell discussed transportation methods and improved farming conditions.

The gathering was held under the auspices of the Washington Township Farmers' club and Henry Gessner, president of the club, presided. In connection with the event was a fruit and corn show that was especially meritorious.

EAST SIDE CIVIC PRIDE.

Meeting at Concordia College Gymnasium Wednesday Evening.

Plans and policies of the East Side and Maumee River Civic Improvement association will be outlined at a big east side civic pride meeting to be held Wednesday evening at the Concordia college gymnasium. Prof. Louis Dorn will preside and the speakers will include Col. D. N. Foster, Dr. Eric A. Crull, T. F. Thieme, R. B. Hanna and C. H. Worden. Every resident of the eastern part of the city and especially the ladies, is urged to attend this meeting.

The residence of George H. Crouse, 1023 West Third street, was damaged to the extent of $100 by fire Sunday morning, originating in a leaking gas fixture.

Detective Dickson has returned from a two-weeks' trip through Illinois and Michigan.

FOR THE MEDICAL PROFESSION

Place—St. Winifred Hospital, San Francisco.

Case—Chronic Parenchymatous Nephritis involving broken compensation, complete Anasarca and Ureamic Convulsions.

Patient—Frank H. Winter, United States Deputy Marshall of Honolulu.

Prognosis—According to the text books, hopeless. The best Honolulu physicians had failed and the condition of the patient at the end of two years' fight for life was so extreme that it was predicted he would not live to get to this city.

The physician who was called in was Dr. L. C. Mendel, who put the patient on Fulton's Renal Compound and aided it with active measures to sustain the heart and promote the eliminations with tonic treatment that skilled physicians understand.

To the intense surprise of the Honolulu physicians the patient was returned the fifth month in good health.

A late letter reports continued health. The fact that a slight addition to the orthodox treatment with which it in nowise conflicts, now permits recoveries in cases that the text books declare hopeless ought to interest every physician in this country.

We serve notice on the whole world that chronic Bright's Disease and Nephritis are now curable in a great majority of cases.

And we have the proofs.

Is there any higher duty than saving human lives.

Men Who Helped to Make America

A French Naval Officer.

CHARLES HECTOR, Count D'Estaing, one of the noble Frenchmen who espoused the cause of the patriots in the American Revolution, was born in Auvergne in 1729 and became an eminent French army and navy officer.

It was in 1778, in accordance with a treaty between the newly organized United States and France, that the latter fitted up a fleet of twelve ships of the line and four frigates to aid the new country in its efforts to free itself from Great Britain.

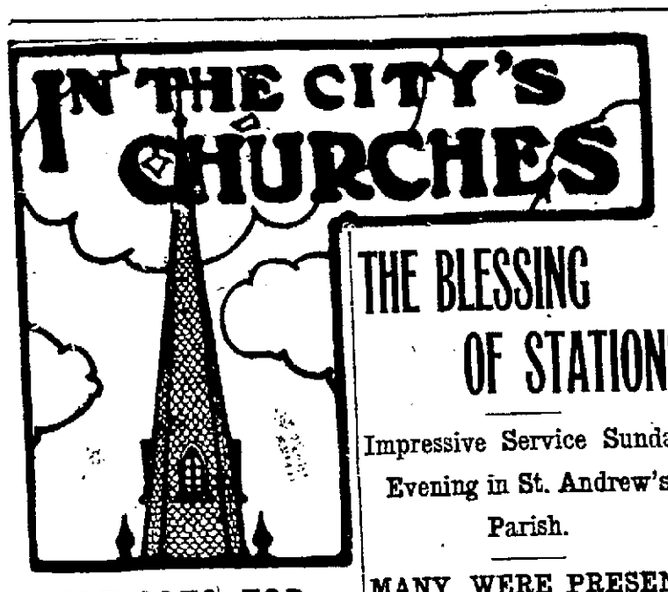
D'Estaing, who had been made vice admiral in the French navy in 1777, was placed in command of this fleet and sailed for American waters in the early spring of the following year.

COMTE D'ESTAING

After reaching Delaware Bay in July he proceeded to New York. Off the coast of Jersey he captured some prizes.

D'Estaing and General Sullivan planned a combined attack on Rhode Island in July of that year to oust the British, who had established a military depot at Newport under General Pigot. A furious storm disabled both fleets and D'Estaing went to Boston for repairs.

Later he co-operated with General Lincoln in an ineffectual attack on Savannah. He returned to France in 1780. He was a member of the Assembly of Notables in the French Revolution, but falling under the suspicion of the Terrorists was guillotined in 1794.



MADE PLEA FOR PERSONAL WORK

Evangelist Fleming Spoke Interestingly at Mass Meeting Sunday.

'THE MASTER'S TOUCH'

The first of the series of Sunday afternoon meetings in the interest of the Young Men's Christian association movement in Fort Wayne was held Sunday afternoon at the Plymouth Congregational church with an encouraging attendance of men and women. The service was in charge of W. S. Whitbeck, the general secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., and the speaker of the afternoon was Rev. J. E. Fleming, of Detroit, who has been conducting evangelistic meetings here for some time and who is now giving special attention to work among the railroad and factory men of the city.

Mr. Fleming is a most interesting speaker, weaving into his addresses much of incident and illustration. His theme Sunday afternoon was "The Master's Touch." It was a plea for personal work in the salvation of others, just the sort of religious work that the Y. M. C. A. is doing, and during his address the speaker presented strong arguments for the maintenance of the Y. M. C. A. in Fort Wayne.

The Rev. Mr. Fleming has had an interesting life experience. As a lad in his tender years he was left an orphan and bound out to a cruel master, from whom, because of his cruelty, he ran away, leaving Buffalo, N. Y., and going by lake steamer to Chicago. In that city he was a newsboy and bootblack for some years. Mr. Fleming is now one of the most successful gospel evangelists of the country, a man who is doing great work in the evangelistic field.

Mass meetings in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. will be held each Sunday afternoon during the fall and winter at some one of the city churches. Secretary Whitbeck has not yet completed his arrangements for the meeting next Sunday.

Preached Dedicatory Sermon.

Rev. Dr. Vichert, the pastor of the First Baptist church, was at Oswego Sunday afternoon, where he delivered the dedicatory sermon on the occasion of the reopening services of the Baptist church. The church there has recently undergone extensive improvements and the rededication occurred Sunday afternoon.

St. Paul Walther League.

On Friday evening of this week, under the auspices of the Walther League of the St. Paul Lutheran church, Prof. W. H. T. Dau, of St. Louis, will deliver a lecture on the life of Dr. Walther, after whom the society was named. Prof. Dau occupies the chair of English dogmatics and homiletics in the theological seminary at St. Louis.

THE BLESSING OF STATIONS

Impressive Service Sunday Evening in St. Andrew's Parish.

MANY WERE PRESENT

Very impressive and solemn, as well as interesting and beautiful, were the services held Sunday evening in the chapel of the new school building of the St. Andrew's Catholic church in the eastern part of the city—the blessing of the stations of the cross, fourteen in number.

The chapel in the school is being used for religious services until the completion of the auditorium of the new church edifice. And it was for this reason that the service of Sunday evening was held there. The chapel, which seats 400 people, was crowded to its capacity.

Father Geo. H. Hortsman, the pastor, was assisted in the service by Father H. F. J. Kroll, pastor of the St. Paul's church, who officiated in the blessing of the stations, and Father John R. Quinlan, pastor of the Cathedral congregation, who delivered the sermon of the evening.

The sermon of Father Quinlan was a most interesting one, explaining, as he did, the origin of the service connected with the stations, the meaning and the purpose. In fact, it was a sermon that covered the general theme of the blessing of the stations of the cross, and in it the Cathedral rector wove much helpful thought.

"THE AMERICAN FOOL"

The Theme of Sunday Evening Sermon by Rev. Dr. Vichert.

The theme of the sermon of Rev. J. F. Vichert, the pastor, at the First Baptist church Sunday evening was "The American Fool." It was the first of a series of Sunday evening sermons on the general topic, "Fools You Have Met," his theme for next Sunday evening being "The Girl Fool." Dr. Vichert took as his text the parable of Christ giving an account of the rich man who, content with the enjoyment which his riches afforded him, neglected his duty to his God and his soul's salvation, and to whom God said, "Thou fool! this night thy soul shall be required of thee. Then whose shall these things be which thou hast provided?"

It was concerning this type of man of the present day that Dr. Vichert preached. "The American Fool." Every man or woman is a fool who, content with the riches and pleasures to be gained in this world, neglects duty to God, neglects to look after the welfare of his soul. The sermon was interspersed with incidents and was most interesting and helpful.

Mission Was Crowded.

An audience that crowded the devotional hall of the Fort Wayne Rescue Home and Mission to overflowing heard the drummer evangelist, J. E. Fleming, Sunday evening in an interesting address. At the close several men came forward with requests for prayers in their behalf. The quartet from the Bible Training school sang and the Story orchestra furnished several numbers. The Bible Training school quartet will be at the mission again on Saturday evening.

Will Give a Concert.

The Weber Concert company, assisted by local talent, will give an entertainment at the Third Presbyterian church on December 15. The following well known musicians compose the company: First tenor, J. H. Morgan; second tenor, Geo. Kohlmeyer; first bass, O. B. Jillson; second bass, C. M. Hollenbeck; bone soloist, O. C. Liggett; reader, Miss Georgia Wirth. O. B. Jillson is manager and J. H. Morgan secretary and treasurer of the company.

Meet Wednesday Afternoon.

The Young Ladies' society of the First Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Arthur E. Smith, 710 West Wayne street. Mrs. Smith will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth Chapin, Miss Daisy Hattersley, Miss Jessie Sale and Miss Mary McDonald.

Nearer and Farther Lights.

The monthly meeting of the Nearer and Farther Lights of the First Baptist church will be held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Elinor Albright, 416 East Creighton avenue. The discussion on "The Race Problem" will be in charge of Miss Mabel Sledd.

Ushers for the Month.

The ushers for the month of November at the Sunday services of the First Presbyterian, appointed by the committee in charge, are Andrew O. Waterman, Rolla P. Hinman, James B. Harper, Homer P. Moses, Charles Pidgeon and Charles R. Lane.

Plymouth Circle.

The Plymouth Circle of the Plymouth Congregational church will be entertained this evening at the home of Mrs. George Jacobs, 1302 West Washington boulevard.

Zion Walther League.

The regular monthly meeting of the Walther League of the Zion Lutheran church will be held this evening at the league hall at which time the standing committees for the year will be appointed.

Went to Columbia City.

A party of Fort Wayne people numbering twenty or more, members of the Christian Science faith, went to Columbia City this afternoon at 4 o'clock, over the Pennsylvania, to hear the address of Dr. Fluno, of Boston, at the Tuttle opera house in that city this evening. Dr. Fulno is one of the board of national lecturers for Christian Science.

Woman's Mission Circle.

The Woman's Mission Circle of the First Baptist church will meet Friday at 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. F. Vichert, 1332 West Washington. An interesting program has been prepared.

Give Pastor Reception.

The members of the South Side Baptist church will tender a reception to their new pastor, Rev. Mr. Ehle, tomorrow evening at the southside church to which members of the First Baptist congregation are also invited.

Will Keep Open House.

The Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church is arranging for an event at the church parlors on the evening of November 28 that they call "an open house." The class is preparing for the entertainment of a large number of guests at that time.

Trinity Parish Guild.

There will be a working meeting of Trinity Parish guild at the parish house on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All women of the episcopal parish are urged to attend this meeting.

SIMPLE LIFE IS CALLING TO MAY

Woman May Be Sent Back to Country When Case is Called Up.

JUDGE IS PUZZLED

If May Scott will consent to resume the simple life that she broke off seven years ago when she left her home near Hicksville, O., it is likely that a charge of petit larceny growing out of the theft of a suit of underwear will not be pressed against her. One veil and a mink head, that was used as an ornament for a hat, is also to be accounted for.

The woman was married seven years ago to a man who is now employed on the B. & O. railroad and they separated last July since which she has led a life, according to her own admissions, that deviated slightly from the straight and narrow. She was living with Pearl Carpenter at 5 Ruth street and she appropriated some clothing that looked attractive to her and spent Sunday in police station.

Evidently the woman was never cut out for the going where electric lights burn all night and the judge was a bit puzzled and held her until Wednesday and in the meantime he will probably try to have her sent back to her parents, who live on a farm. Since her separation from her husband she has been buffeted about and the hard knocks she has endured will probably induce her to return to the lowing herds.

Hatchet and a Jag.

Charles Huffman had a hatchet and a jag. Either was harmless alone, but the combination was bad and he wanted to chop into the head of a saloonkeeper out on Fairfield avenue late Saturday afternoon. He paid a fine of $5 and costs.

James Lewis, a painter from Arcola, was picked up early this morning and could not satisfactorily account for his presence on the streets at that hour. He drew $10 and costs for loitering.

Frank Felher, a vag, and John R. Miller, a plain drunk, were let go.

JOKE WAS ON THE DOCTOR.

He Got His Fee, but He Was Not Pleased.

A DOCTOR who owns a fashionable house on the heights tells this joke on himself:

"I was awakened the other morning about 3 o'clock by the violent ringing of my doorbell. I got up, threw open the window and saw on the doorstep a man evidently under the influence of liquor, but very much excited.

"'How musch y' charge to go t' C'narsie?' he asked. 'It's very important.'

"'Five dollars,' I answered, thinking of the long ride and my lost sleep.

"'All right,' he said. 'Hurry up—it's very 'important.'

"I hustled into my clothes, had the horse and carriage brought around to the front door and started off with my inebriated caller. Finally we arrived at Canarsie, at the address he had given me. I drew up the horse and woke up the slumbering drunk.

"'Here we are,' I said.

"'All right,' was his answer. He put his hand into his pocket and drew out a roll of bills, from which he peeled a fiver.

"'Musch 'bliged,' said he. 'They wanted t' charge me $12 at th' liv'ry stable.'"—Brooklyn Eagle.

In Crowded Quarters.

Elliott Woods, superintendent of the capitol, recently told a story about a new southern member of the house whose frugality he is commending to his congressional friends.

The new member arrived in town and hunted Superintendent Woods up immediately.

"I reckon I'd like to look at my quarters," said he to the superintendent.

He was taken to the house office building and shown to one of the substantially furnished office rooms.

"This is fine," said the new member, "but where are my other rooms?"

"Oh, you can't have another room for several years, not until you have become chairman of a committee," replied Woods.

"My God!" exclaimed the southerner, "how do you expect me to sleep, cook, eat and work in one room?"—New York World.

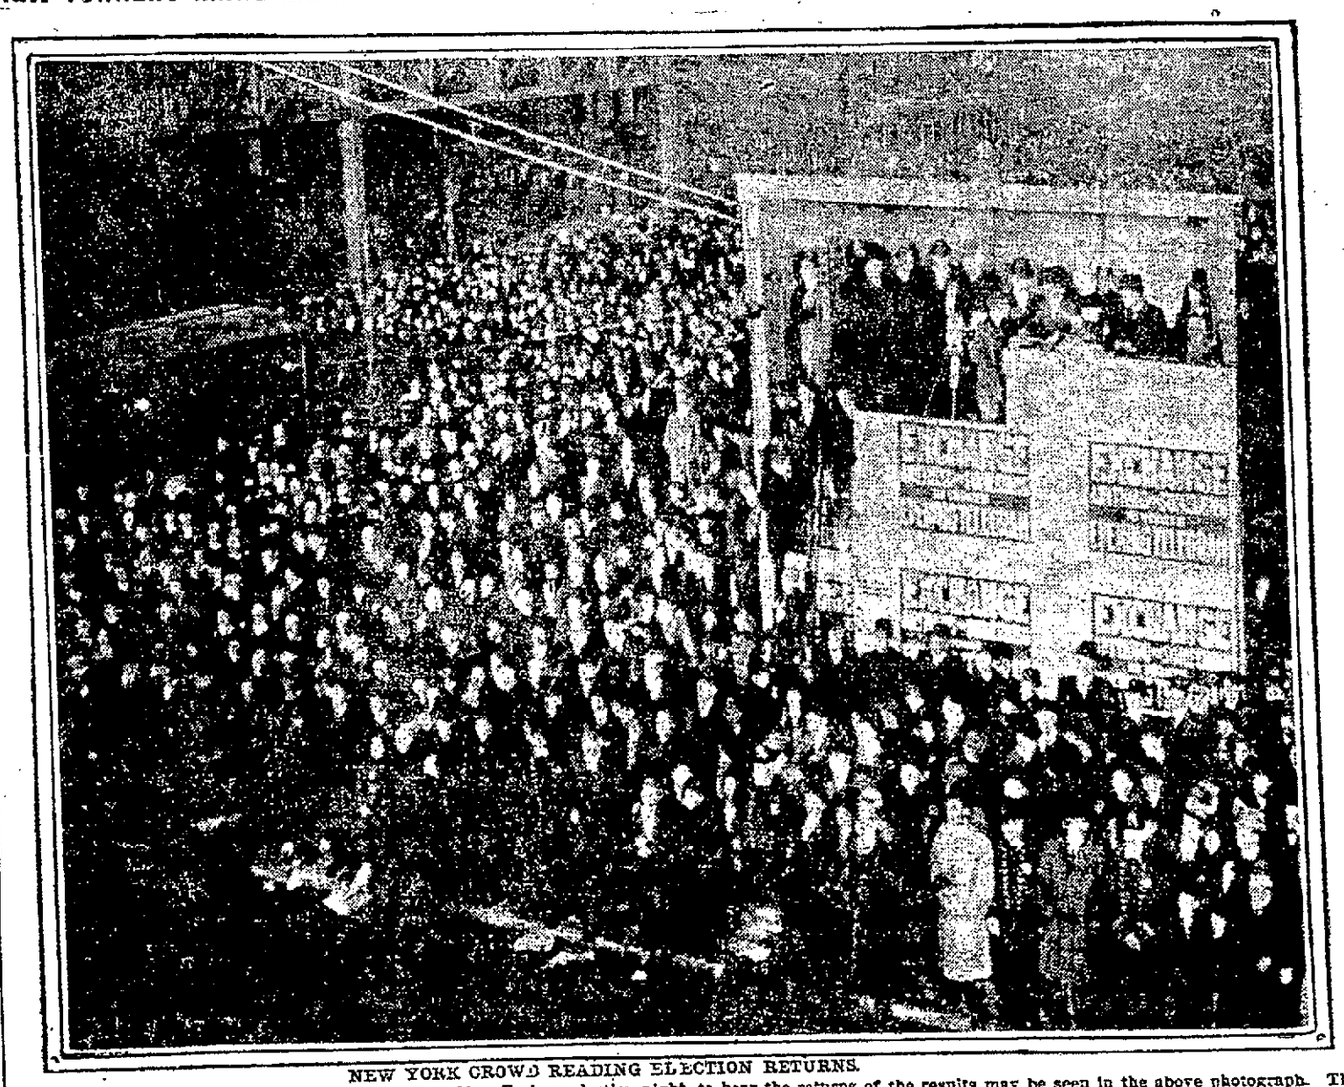
NEW YORKERS MAKE MERRY ON ELECTION NIGHT---THOUSANDS READING RESULT OF CONTEST



NEW YORK CROWD READING ELECTION RETURNS.

An idea of the vast crowds which gather in New York on election night to hear the returns of the results may be seen in the above photograph. The photograph was taken in front of one of the big New York newspaper offices. The night is turned into an occasion for a "good old time," no matter which way the election goes.

An enjoyable party was given last evening when Mrs. Charles Kidd, of Washington boulevard east, entertained a number of her friends at progressive pedro. The guests went in masquerade costumes and spent a merry time. Mrs. George Fuchshuber, Mrs. Frank Martin and Mrs. Alfred Kidd assisted the hostess in serving delicious refreshments. The guests were Misses Laura Crabb, Mary Bicknese, Martha Werthman, Minnie Linker, Cecelia Gibson, Jennie Gibson, Elsie Nethercot, Lucy Flaugh, Emelia Hockemeyer, Frances Schenkel, Emma Fuchshuber, Mary Rohrbach, Emma Korte and Mildred Scherer.

Miss Edith Kayser, of Huestis avenue, recently entertained a company of young friends at her home in a delightful way. The rooms were very pretty with their extra decoration of leaves, vines and berries and yellow and red shades to all the lights. Pumpkin lanterns cast their grinning shadows about. Fancy baskets filled with apples, pears and grapes were placed at the disposal of the guests and baskets of nuts were placed handy for hungry fingers. Progressive letters was an amusement and prizes in the contest were won by Misses Mattie Burke, Vivian Close and Messrs. George Werkman and Ed Mettler. Music interspersed the games and numbers were given by Misses Augusta Bates, Elsie Meyer and Ruth Kayser. The hostess was dressed as a gypsy and she told fortunes during the evening, as if she had had experience of the kind and really expected to have her palm crossed with silver. An excellent supper was served during the evening and a feature of the serving was the cloth of yellow and black paper. Partners for supper were selected by means of cards which had to be matched. Fortunes were wrapped in tinfoil and had to be read aloud. The table was lighted by pumpkin lanterns. The guests were Misses Angela Baltes, Vivian Close, Mattie Benke, Caroline Honeick, Elsie Meyer, Celeste Hoffman and Messrs. Ed Mettler, George Werkman, Chester Gracey, Leenus Kirkhoff, Clem Eckrick and Otto Hagerfeld.

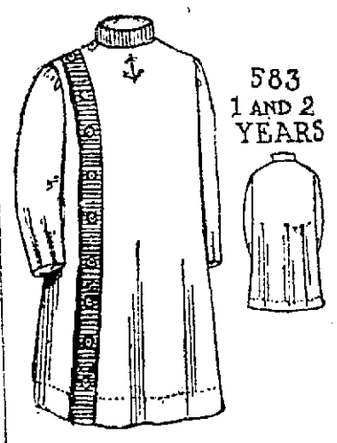
FOR SMALL BOYS.

By Mrs. Jane Ford.



583
1 AND 2 YEARS

THE boys of America are better dressed than those of any other country. In Paris their clothes are overtrimmed and give them a decidedly girlish appearance. In London the opposite extreme prevails, and the average boy's suit is not even youthful in appearance. Profiting by these peculiarities, American mothers insist upon dressing their boys in garments that are both young and boyish.

Following these lines, the slip shown here will appeal to mothers because it is practical.

If developed in tub goods, such as blue or brown linen, striped or figured percale, plain gingham or chambray, it will be satisfactory for morning wear.

If this model is copied in woollen materials, French serge, cashmere or mohair it will be a pretty selection in either delft or navy blue.

This desirable pattern is cut in two sizes that will fit boys one and two years of age. To copy it for a boy two years old one and one-half yards of goods thirty-six inches in width will be needed.

Velvet opera cloak with lace and fur.

HATS FOR IN-BETWEEN SEASONS.

The craze for double-faced materials is adaptable to motor hoods, and very fascinating it is to see a mouse gray velvet hood turned back with rose silk revers fixed by huge velvet covered buttons.

There is more than a reminiscence of the bewitching Quaker styles in the motor hoods that are being issued for between seasons and early autumn wear, and the use of silk and felt is apparent in lieu of straw.

The quaint little rabbit ears ornament stands up perkily enough at the side of a buff beaver hood. It is cut out of brown velvet and looks surprisingly like fur.

A safety pin is the only means of affixing it, for it may have to come off at a moment's notice when the fancy seizes its wearer to turn the hood inside out and show how pretty it may look either way.

The rabbit ears will then be wanted, not at the side, maybe, but to support the brim, which will be turned back abruptly above the brow. A quaint conceit, is it not?

NOTES AND NOTIONS.

A QUESTION was raised recently as to whether women in general were spending more on their clothes than formerly, and this was more or less proved to be really the case. It is quite safe to assert that we dress better than was the case some years back, and we certainly have more occasions for which to provide suitable dresses. We all spend so much more time travelling and have in consequence to provide the necessary outfits. Also with the advent of motoring and visiting in the country at the end of the week, which is so much in vogue, in addition to the smarter clothes required for town wear, we are obliged to admit that our expenditure is not on a decreasing scale. We have become more tolerant, too, in our attitude toward the fancy prices asked for model garments at many swagger houses which would have roused righteous indignation and pious wrath in an earlier era.

On considering what appears to be an exorbitantly priced article one is apt to overlook the amount of work and ingenuity that many an innocent looking confection represents, and the thought of the artist mind that conceives it, and these are not things to be obtained cheaply. There is nothing for it, therefore, but to resign ourselves to the inevitable, and we must also see to it that our husbands and fathers are brought to a similar subjection of spirit. It is always an economy, by the way, to get a really good thing from the start, and cheap bargains are usually to be avoided.

WHITE COATS ARE SMART.

Ratine is the fabric that most delights us in the dress world. Whatever its merits, we have elected to go rather crazy over it—and among novelties none can be more suitable and effective than the handsome white coats which are made of this material. Sometimes these have huge revers of some very lively color, a crimson, blue or green, or mauve or orange, this last shade being much affected; but the smartest thing is the white coat of soft surfaced heavy material, with a deep collar or hood of taffetas, with a silky finish, or with facings carried out in white moire. Underneath is worn, of course, a slim little tailor gown.

RECIPES.

Baked Sweet Potatoes, Southern Style.

Boil the potatoes until barely done, then skin them and cut in half-inch slices. Fill a deep baking dish with alternate layers of the potatoes, bits of butter and a sprinkling of sugar. Bake in a moderate oven until the butter and sugar form a rich syrup, in which the potatoes cook until they look almost clear; then allow them to brown.

Brown Betty.

Mix together one pint of finely crumbled stale bread, a pinch of salt, three to four tablespoonfuls of sugar, according to acidity of the apples, a half-teaspoonful of cinnamon, a pinch of cloves. Melt and stir through this two large tablespoonfuls of butter. Pare, core and chop or cut fine two heaping cupfuls of tart apples in alternate layers in a buttered pudding dish, having crumbs on top. If the apples are not juicy, add two or three tablespoonfuls of cold water. Cover and bake in a moderate oven until the apples are soft, then uncover and brown the top. Serve hot or cold with cream and sugar.

FADS AND FANCIES.

Braids we have come to expect as a part of the detail of winter gowns, for braiding is a rich and dignified decoration which goes well with fur. Its popularity is most assured in black, but colors will be introduced this season, though there will be rather less of gold and silver than before. Cord will also be worn, but we have tired of the cord girdle, and it is other decorative possibilities that await this trimming.

As to buttons, we are assured that they will be prominent, and that very large sizes will be seen, bone buttons being sometimes as much as three inches in diameter. Tinted metal moulds are again being introduced, and mother of pearl buttons are overlaid with designs in cut metal. At the same time very tiny buttons in metal, bone, velvet or fabric will be greatly used as trimmings—but we shall have no use at all for the button of medium size.

The busy housekeeper will be glad to learn a quick and easy way to make candles fit into her candlesticks. Should the ends of the candles be too thick, simply dip them in boiling water for a minute. The heat will melt the wax so it can easily be pushed firmly into the candlesticks.

Don't put salt in cooking vegetables until they are about half done.

Don't slice egg plant with anything but a silver knife.

Washing lamp chimneys by immersing them in hot water makes them very brittle. A safer way to clean them is to hold them over the steam of a tea kettle and polish with an old soft linen cloth.

ODDFELLOWS WILL MEET AT LIGONIER.

Noble County Lodgemen Getting Ready for Big Gathering—Other Meets to Follow.

Ligonier, Ind., Nov. 6.—The first county meeting this year of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will be held in this city Saturday evening, November 11. All of the lodges in the county will be represented, including Kendallville, Albion, Brimfield, Cromwell and Avilla, and there will be several hundred in attendance. More than fifty from the Kendallville lodge will attend.

One of the features of the meeting will be the initiation of a large class of candidates, the work being performed by the Albion and Kendallville degree teams. It is understood that the Albion team will confer the initiatory degree, and the Kendallville team the first degree. A banquet and addresses by some of the principal members in the county will follow. The first meeting will be the forerunner of a series of others, which will be held at various towns in the county during the winter.

PLANNING CORN SHOW.

Whitley County Corn Growers Perfect Plans for Coming Contest.

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 6.—The Whitley County Corn Growers association met in the assembly room at the court house Saturday forenoon and perfected the arrangements for the county corn show which will take place at the F. L. Myesr hall Nov. 24 and 25. The officers of the association are: W. I. Mowery, president; J. Bair, secretary, and Willis Rhoades, treasurer. The township presidents are as follows: Cleveland, Nelson, Keller; Columbia, Alexander Knisely; Union, Albert Busch; Jefferson, J. M. Kaufman; Washington, Samuel Goble; Thornecreek, Dorsey Jagger; Etna, Charles DeVine; Troy, Alva Marrs; Richland, Clyde Fox; Smith, J. W. Pence. Six of these were present at the meeting together with County Superintendent Fleck, who is interested in the boys' show. The boys' show will take place on the same date and will follow the same general plan as last year. Both the contests will be held in conjunction, and will be judged by the same person. The prizes were not changed at all and will remain the same in regard to value.

JURY COULD NOT REACH AGREEMENT.

Final Vote was 11 to 1 for Conviction in Chiropractor Trial at Huntington.

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 6.—The jury which heard the case of the State of Indiana against James Meyer, a local chiropractor, alleged to be guilty of violation of the state law regarding the practice of medicine, was called in by Judge Cook and discharged, it failing to come to an agreement. The final vote was 11 to 1 for conviction, the ballots having remained the same all day Saturday. The jurymen were discharged shortly after 7 o'clock Saturday evening.

Saturday morning Judge Cook withdrew instruction No. 14 from the jury and submitted No. 14½ in its place. The case now stands as it was when the trial opened Friday morning and a retrial will be necessary. Chiropractor Meyer said he is confident a verdict of acquittal will be returned by the jury following the close of the next trial. The date of the rehearing has not been set.

TO HAVE FOURTH PUBLICATION.

Official Organ of Red Men's Lodge Will Be Published at Hartford City.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 6.—This city is to have a fourth paper. The Indiana Red Man, the official organ of the Improved Order of Red Men and the Pocahontas auxiliary now being published at Montpelier by L. E. Wooster, in connection with the Rural Tribune, a farm paper, has been purchased by local men and the plant will be moved to this city. The paper will be published in the office of the Times-Gazette, whose editor, Henry Geisler, is one of the new owners. Mayor G. W. Sweigart, recently elected great junior sagamore of the Red Men of Indiana, and other prominent members of the lodge are interested in the publication. Mayor Sweigart probably will be chosen editor.

THIEVES MAKE HAUL.

Auburn, Ind., Nov. 6.—The residence of J. A. Seydel, of near this city, was visited by robbers while the family was in Auburn, shopping, and when Mr. and Mrs. Seydel returned to their home they found the contents of the rooms in a "topsy-turvy" condition. Some valuable silverware and $5 and were taken by the thieves.

KENDALLVILLE NEWS.

Kendallville, Ind., Nov. 6.—Geo. Kihm is moving into the building that used to be occupied by the News office on Williams street. He is having the place overhauled and decorated and it will make a fine appearance when completed.

A Chinaman of Chicago was in the city Saturday looking for a location to start a new laundry.

Mrs. J. Bon Figilo, of Garrett, is visiting her son, Mike Bon Figilo, for a few days.

Mrs. Emma Hilkert, of Lincoln street, is reported not much better. She suffered a stroke of paralysis about a week ago.

Louis Kaiser has opened his new grocery store for business. For the last two weeks he has been having the place decorated and overhauled.

Mesdames N. G. Tidd and J. W. Mock were the guests of Brimfield friends Friday.

John Walters, of near South Milford, is seriously ill.

Mrs. Julius Orstadt went to Fort Wayne to submit to an operation at the Lutheran hospital at that place.

Ray Chapman has bought out Homer Newman's barber shop and will take possession at once.

Mrs. J. O. Wallace has returned after a pleasant visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rockwell, at Corunna.

Robert Howell and wife, of Butler, visited friends here yesterday.

A. M. Frazure, of Gary, is the guest of Kendallville friends for a few days. Mrs. Frazure will be remembered as a former resident of this city.

Miss Grace Cushing, who has been at a hospital at Chicago the past three weeks, has returned home.

FLAMES RUIN BIG BUILDING.

Matches and Youngsters the Cause of Conflagration.

Wabash, Ind., Nov. 6.—One of the worst fires of its kind occurred Saturday about one mile north of Urbana when the big barn belonging to Fred Schmaltzried was burned to the ground. The building was in flames before it was discovered and though every effort was made to save it, it was destroyed. The four children of Fred Schmaltzried were out playing in the barn at the time. They had been given some matches and in some manner or other some straw was accidentally set on fire. Before the children were aware of the danger or their parents saw it, the entire building was in flames. Some of the neighbors saw the fire instantly and came to the assistance of Mr. Schmaltzried, but though they tried their best to quench the fire they were unsuccessful and in a remarkably short time the structure was in ashes.

The loss was $2,500, but insurance to the amount of $1,000 was carried which leaves a total loss to Mr. Schmalzried of only $1,500.

ON ROAD TO RECOVERY.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 6.—Everett Clark, the 18-year-old youth of this city who attempted to end his life with a pistol Saturday morning, is now on the road to recovery, according to his physician's statement. Clark fired a 32-caliber bullet into his body, just above the heart, in a despondent moment and for awhile the doctors thought he would not recover from the injury, but yesterday the young man seemed to rest easily and the chances are that he will get well again. He has not lost consciousness for a moment since the deed was committed.

NEW GARAGE OPENS.

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 6.—The Hendricks & Outcelt garage opened for business today in the new cement block building erected on East Van Buren street by G. B. Widdifield. Henry Outcelt, of North Webster, who took a half interest in the firm, will move his machine shop here Wednesday. Fred Hendricks is the other member of the firm.

SPENCERVILLE NEWS.

Spencerville, Ind., Nov. 6.—John Benninghoff, who is a liveryman of Butler, and wife, are at their home here, preparing for the winter. They have a home at Butler also and remain there most of the time.

Mrs. Thomas Murry and daughter, Golden, contemplate going to Oklahoma City, Okla., to spend the winter with the former's daughter, Mrs. Hulbert Rummel.

J. M. Boots and wife, of Winamac, who lived on the county line road twenty-eight years ago, are visiting relatives and friends here. They expect to return home as soon as they have made the rounds of their former acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McClellan visited with James Vallien and wife Friday.

Lee Chapman and wife and Mrs. Clem Treece were Hicksville visitors Friday.

W. G. Erick made a business trip to Detroit Friday.

NEW HAVEN NEWS.

New Haven, Ind., Nov. 6.—Homer Powell, who formerly conducted a restaurant at this place, has purchased of William Evert the Lyric five-cent show plant at Goshen and has taken possession.

A Junior and Epworth league was organized at the M. E. church yesterday.

Mrs. Ira Butler will entertain the Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church at her home next Wednesday. She will be assisted by Mrs. George Linden, Mrs. S. Mix and Mrs. Creighton Butler. A twenty-cent supper will be served and articles of sewing will be sold.

Mrs. Harry Zeddis, Mrs. Al Smith, Miss Maud Caps, Mrs. George Bolyard, Mrs. George Killworth and daughter, Hazel, were Fort Wayne shoppers Saturday.

GASOLINE EXPLODES.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Agnes Allen, of this city, was painfully burned about the arms by an explosion of gasoline Saturday morning. She was cleaning a shirt waist in the fluid and set the dish pan she was using on the front of the stove for a short time. The gasoline became heated and exploded while she was working with the pan. Her daughter was in the room and called to her mother to throw the pan out doors. This she did, but not until she had been very painfully burned. Her hands and arms were badly burned and large patches of skin were seared off. Her neck sustained a severe burn on one side and her face was slightly scorched.

BODY INDENTIFIED.

Goshen, Ind., Nov. 6.—The dead body which was found in this city by Lake Shore section men several weeks ago and which was thought might be that of George Mort, of near Silver Lake, has been identified. The section men who found the body expressed the belief that it was the body of an old tramp who has been visiting Goshen for many years. This theory, however, was upset when the old tramp made his appearance. He was given a description of the dead man and identified him as an old tramp from Connecticut known generally by the names of "Daddy" or "Yank," and who has been on the road for the past ten years.

PUBLIC LIBRARY CLOSED.

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 6.—Owing to the lack of support from the citizens of this city, the local library board has decided to close the public library. Lack of funds compelled the board to ask for a small per cent of the county taxes and as the taxpayers do not care to help support the very worthy institution, the men who are at the head of the library called a special meeting and ordered the librarian to call in all books that are out.

MONROEVILLE NEWS.

Monroeville, Ind., Nov. 6.—John Eggeman, democratic candidate for judge of the circuit court, was in town Saturday.

Lon Minsel, of New Haven, made a business trip to our town Saturday.

Chas. Bremen has resigned his position as night watchman and Frank Webb will act in that capacity.

Rev. J. W. Cain occupied the pulpit at the M. E. church Sunday evening, in the absence of Rev. Rehl.

Mr. and Mrs J. A. Schaab were at Auburn Saturday attending the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. Gerardot.

Mary Wagner, of Traverse City, Mich., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Fenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Bouzer, of Fort Wayne, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bowers, near Dixon.

Elizabeth and Winifred Taylor, of Lecompton, Kan., are guests of relatives in this vicinity.

The social given at the Liberty school house Friday evening was a decided success. A large crowd was in attendance and a special program rendered. About twenty-one dollars were cleared for the school. Miss Addie Durnell is the teacher.

This quiet little burg was furnished a little excitement Saturday when word was telegraphed here from Elida, Ohio, to arrest a man going west on the Ohio electric at 11 a. m. Squire J. D. Allegar and son, William, acted in the absence of Marshal Peckham and arrested and secured the man with some difficulty. He had buncoed an old lady at Elida out of $25 by claiming to be an optician who could cure her of some chronic eye trouble. When arrested he claimed to be a paint salesman from Cleveland, Ohio, and gave his name as Michael Harrison. He refused to return to Ohio without requisition papers, but later in the evening, after a talk with Deputy Sheriff Baxter, of Van Wert, and Mayor McBride, of Elida, he concluded to return with them.

The Jackson and Monroe township teachers met in the high school room Saturday and the following program was given: Opening exercise, Mr. Sprunger; Studies in History, Mr. Nichols and Miss Addie Durnell; Indiana Course of Study in History, B. F. Clem; Teaching of Geography, Lorain Jones, Clarence Jones and Prof. Coil; The Chinese Revolution, John Crabill; Lessons in Inflections in Verbs, Helen Jones; History of Young People's Reading Circles, J. Have You Noticed in the Last Few Months the Wonderful Improvement in L'Art de la Mode?

Do you know that to-day there is no other fashion publication that is considered its equal?

Do you know that, although it is published for the women of the home, more dressmakers take it than any other publication in the country?

The reason is that L'ART DE LA MODE is now published by the owners of THEATRE MAGAZINE, who, on account of their European connections, were immediately able to get the highest class of exclusive information on Paris fashions for L'ART DE LA MODE.

OUR PATTERNS ARE THE BEST

The illustrations are large and sweeping in effect. While the patterns for each style are extra simple, yet they cover even the smallest detail of the most intricate costume.

Get a copy of L'ART DE LA MODE from the news-stand to-day, and see for yourself the many suggestions on really smart dressing, which you get from illustrations done by the best artists when they are supplied with facts in the latest fashions, and are not compelled to rely on their imagination only.

We have some especially interesting features for subscribers which we will announce later.

You will find that the number which is now on the news-stands has full pages on street costumes, afternoon costumes for velvet and brocade, smart tailor-mades, chic costumes for the new double-faced materials, striking street costumes and trotteur frocks for serge and broadcloth, and some especially interesting pages on evening gowns.

If you do not know L'ART DE LA MODE, mail in this coupon for a sample copy. It will reach you with all possible speed.

ONE SLIP CUT A FIGURE IN GAME

Dennison Victim of Bad Cleats and Lost a Great Opportunity.

GAME CLOSES IN A TIE.

A few minutes after the whistle for the start of the second half of the gridiron trouble between the Friars and the Maxwell-Briscoes at League park yesterday, Dennison, of the home squad, caught the ball on a delayed pass from Pask and with only one man to elude for a clear field and a touchdown in sight, his cleats failed to hold and he slipped, and before he got into his stride a Newcastle tackle had him by the legs and went down with him.

There was no scoring in the game, but the Friar eleven put up one of the best battles it has staged this season and both the offensive and defensive work were good. Every man was on his job, all seemed better conditioned and the game was particularly free from the fumbling that has marred a number of the other struggles.

Hutzell went in in the last half and received a rousing ovation from the crowd and he also received more than his share of attention from the visiting players. It was get Hutzell from the time he got into harness and he was kept covered most of the time. At the close of the game the club presented him with a handsome traveling bag in recognition of the services he rendered the club during the season. Yesterday's game was his last, as he is going to Denver to get married and will quit the gridiron.

Strieder played a great game for the Friars and one bit of work that stood out was in the last quarter when the enemy was fighting hard for Fort Wayne's goal with such effectiveness that the rooters were growing a little leery. He caught the ball after the Maxwells had kicked and carried it thirty-five yards before he was downed. The line-up:

Football Notes.

The High School team beat Concordia at Swinney Park grounds Saturday afternoon. The high school squad put on some good trick plays and it has some fast men on the club.

Carlton Lewis had a knee dislocated during a game at Bluffton. He was a spectator and was wrestling between the periods. The Fort Wayne Kappas were beaten in the game by a score of five to nothing.

In a game at Lawton park yesterday the Central Catholic High School took on a team from St. Mary's high and won 25 to nothing.

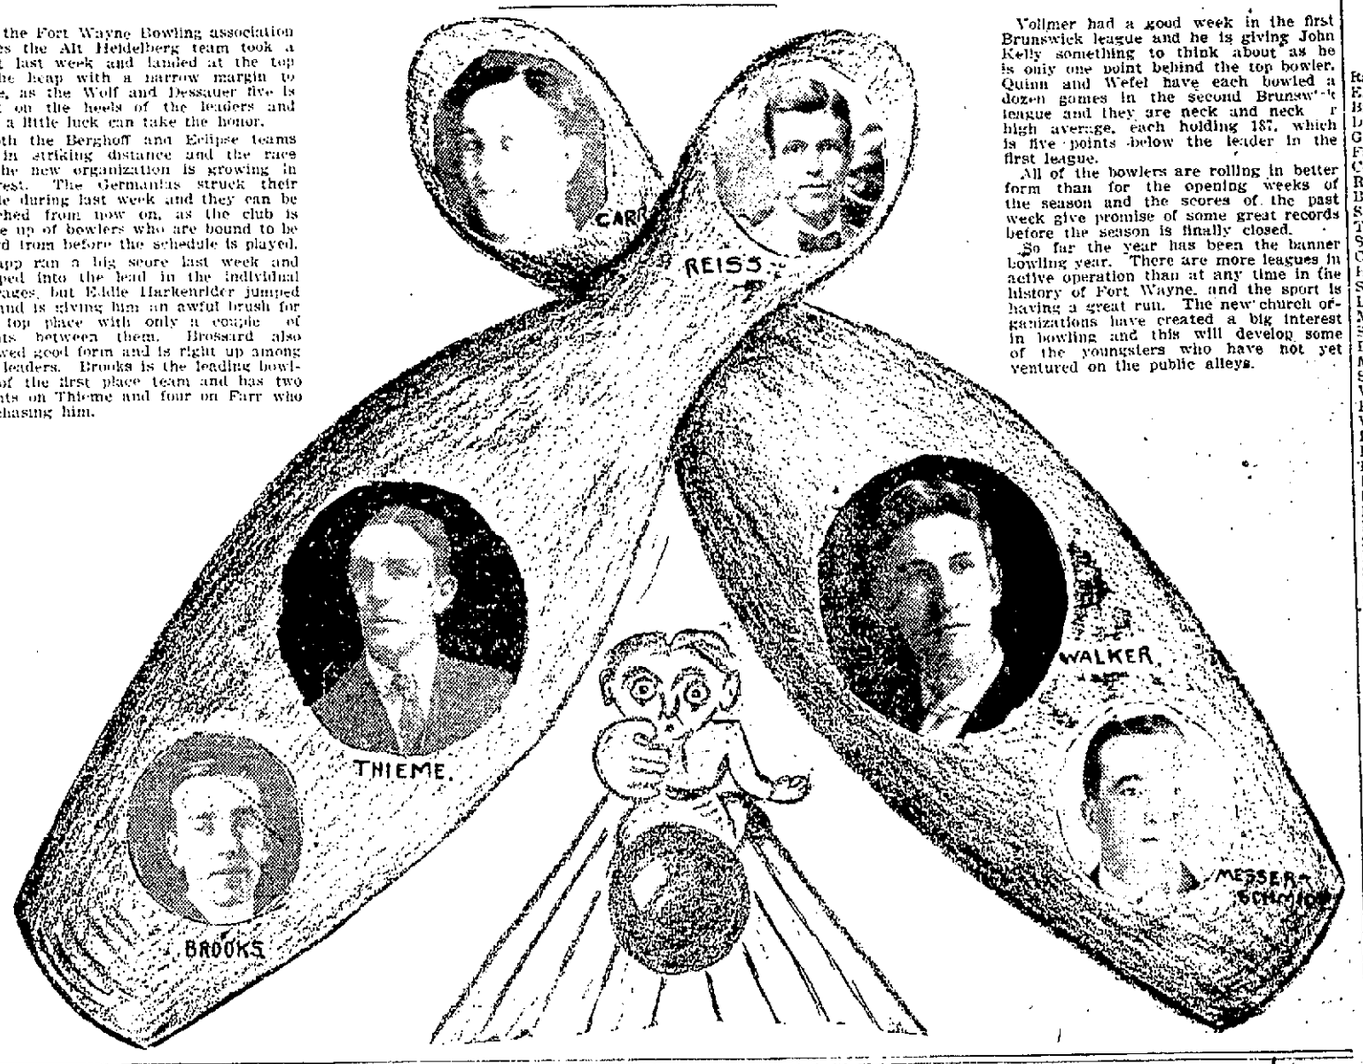
LEADERS IN THE FORT WAYNE BOWLING ASSOCIATION RACE AT CLOSE OF WEEK

In the Fort Wayne Bowling association games the Alt Heidelberg team took a spurt last week and landed at the top of the heap with a narrow margin to spare, as the Wolf and Dessauer five is right on the heels of the leaders and with a little luck can take the honor.

Both the Berghoff and Eclipse teams are in striking distance and the race in the new organization is growing in interest. The Germanias struck their stride during last week and they can be watched from now on, as the club is made up of bowlers who are bound to be heard from before the schedule is played.

Rapp ran a big score last week and jumped into the lead in the individual averages, but Eddie Harkenrider jumped up and is giving him an awful brush for the top place with only a couple of points between them. Brossard also showed good form and is right up among the leaders. Brooks is the leading bowler of the first place team and has two points on Thieme and four on Farr who is chasing him.



Vollmer had a good week in the first Brunswick league and he is giving John Kelly something to think about as he is only one point behind the top bowler. Quinn and Wefel have each bowled a dozen games in the second Brunswick league and they are neck and neck for high average, each holding 187, which is five points below the leader in the first league.

All of the bowlers are rolling in better form than for the opening weeks of the season and the scores of the past week give promise of some great records before the season is finally closed.

So far the year has been the banner bowling year. There are more leagues in active operation than at any time in the history of Fort Wayne, and the sport is having a great run. The new church organizations have created a big interest in bowling and this will develop some of the youngsters who have not yet ventured on the public alleys.

ONSLOW MAY GET ON WITH TIGERS

One More Catcher is to Be Used and He Will Have a Chance.

GAINOR WILL STICK.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—In framing up his club for next season Manager Hughey Jennings will probably install one new Tiger catcher and the men who will be tried out for the backstop position are Knoher and Onslow. Casey has not come up to expectations and a man is needed for the second string, the first place being conceded to Oscar Stanage.

Of the catchers that are to try for the place Jack Onslow stands ace high and he may get a chance to make the training trip with the Detroit club. Last season Secretary Frank J. Navin placed Onslow with the Fort Wayne club, so that he would get a year of experience under capable management and he made rapid strides.

Dr. James Casey, who held the reins over the Fort Wayne club during the year, is strong for Onslow and has been boosting him since his return from the summer campaign. He likes his throwing and says he has a good head and plenty of nerve, and is not afraid to try out his arm when good judgment prompts the belief that it is necessary.

Jennings says all he needs to make the Detroit team a pennant winner next year is the following players of class equal to those who will be retained: One new outfielder, two new infielders, two new pitchers and one new catcher. As Hughey only needs six men he may have considerable trouble in finding them since Comiskey has been angling for a first baseman for the White Sox for years and has spent many thousands without being able to find a man who can fill the bill.

Cobb and Crawford are figured on as fixtures in the Detroit outfield, so Jennings' word means that Drake has not come up to expectations. It is said that he plans on trying Tutweiler in the outfield, discouraged of ever making an infielder out of him. Tutweiler is fast on his feet and has impressed Jennings as a valuable man at the bat and on the bases.

Since Tutweiler has not come up to expectations it is hard to figure where the infielders are coming from. Bush, Gainor and Deichanty look likely to be regulars again, but Moriarity seems to have had his day. An infielder is badly needed.

Donovan, Summers, Works and Covington are all fairly sure of their positions. Mullin finished strong this year, but was dissatisfied with his berth and may figure in a trade. Donovan can only be depended on for work during July and August. Summers is an in and outer, very effective against certain teams and a mark for others. Works is streaky, but looks likely to develop into a great pitcher. Willett would do better elsewhere and may figure in a a trade deal. Covington looks a comer and next year bids fair to be one of the pitching stars of the league. Mullin and Willett are good tradeable material, whom Jennings should be able to turn into a good pitcher and an infielder. Comiskey has a surplus of pitchers and infielders, but needs a veteran like Mullin. It need not be surprising if Mullin wears a Chicago uniform next year. An infielder like Tannehill would come pretty close to making the Tigers and can be spared by the White Sox with four regulars, he being utility infielder for Comiskey.

NEW MANAGER OF SOUTH BEND CLUB

HARRY ARNDT.

CONDENSED NEWS FROM FIELD OF SPORT

The Central Leaguer carries a front page picture of Claude H. Varnell with the announcement that he will go to San Antonio and try to land the next meeting of the national association for Wheeling.

Pitcher Louis Drucke of the Giants, who sprained his back in 1910 and hasn't been able to do much work since, will undergo treatment at a Waco, Tex., sanitarium, starting this week.

If the national commission passes a rule to prevent baseball players from writing stories for papers during a world's series, they will find it useless. The big papers have beaten the commission to it.

Connie Mack said at the dinner given to J. Franklin Baker in Philadelphia the other night that Jimmy Collins was the greatest third baseman the game of baseball has known. There are a great many players and fans who approve Mack's judgment.

In the selection of Harry Arndt as manager South Bend has picked a good man who will inject some ginger into the club. The Sentinel's prediction that neither Eddie Coffey or Eddie Wheeler would land the job was verified by the choice.

After Lester Channell had been let out at Indianapolis because he could not hit he went to Mansfield in the Ohio State league, and batted .315 in 78 games. He stole twenty-three bases. Bisland hit .278 for Youngstown and Ed Goes, formerly with Terre Haute, hit .284.

Theodore Breitenstein, the old $10,000 southpaw beauty with the New Orleans club, may quit as a player and become an umpire. Breitenstein has been a winning pitcher in the Southern league for several years, but his arm is about gone.

C. Victory Faust has informed McGraw that "Of course he'll be there next season." The information did not throw McGraw into happy hysterics. Faust ran away from home to act as mascot for the Giants, but since the recent defeat McGraw says he hasn't even enough sense to be a decent mascot.

Charles Dooin did not accompany the Phillies to Cuba, where they are barnstorming among the natives. Dooin has some barnstorming of his own to do, and is under contract to appear in several show houses. Cotter, who substituted for him during the season, will catch in Cuba.

The booby prize for piffly swatsman goes easily to Pitcher Hendrix of the Pirates. Hendrix, who is some big man in the box, amassed four hits in the recent season. One of them was a home run. After it was secured, Hendrix said he had never been so surprised in his life as he was when he saw the pill sailing over the fence.

If Ed Reulbach makes good as an automobile salesman, in which capacity he is going to spend the winter, he will not return to the game next year. Big Ed made this statement himself, declaring that he had heard there was a lot of money in that business and that if he could prove the assertion in his particular instance he would stick to the business.

DAL GAINOR HAS A GREAT SEASON

Hit Nearly as Well in the American League as He Did in Central.

INJURY STOPPED HIM

Any player who can jump from class B to the majors at one jump, sustain a broken arm in mid-season and stay out of the game more than half the time and then bat .303 against .311 in the minors must be some ball player.

This is what Dal Gainor did according to the official averages of the American league, which have just been published. When he was injured he was hitting .365, and the setback kept his batting average down and all of his work leads to the conclusion that Jennings has picked up the best young first baseman in the business.

His base running record was not as good as it was in the Central league and only ten pilfers are recorded to his credit, but he has the speed and barring accidents he will have a good season in 1912. Jennings has pronounced him a fixture.

As has been known for several months Tyrus Raymond Cobb led the league in batting with an average of .420 and Joe Jackson played him a close second. The great Georgia player also led in base running and he has eighty-three purloined sacks to his credit.

Although Ewart "Dixie" Walker won only eight of twenty-one games he pitched for Washington, the old Zanesville player was there with his trusty bat and he hit for .303, one point better than Gainor. He took part in thirty-four games and was hitting in great shape all year.

Washington also has another hitting pitcher in Cashion, a youngster picked up in September by Jimmy McAleer. He took part in twenty-one games and batted .324.

Jimmy Austin, whose rise in baseball included a couple of years in the Central league as a member of the Dayton club, had a good year with the bat and pulled out with .261, which is mighty good for an infielder. Bert Shotten, with Wheeling last season and shifted through two leagues before he finally landed with the St. Louis Browns, did better work than he did in the Central last year. He hit .251 and stole twenty-six bases.

Hank Butcher, who starred with Evansville the season that Knoll won the championship, hit only .240 for Cleveland, which was a bit better than Williams, formerly with Terre Haute, did. Ownie Bush had an off year and is way down to .232 in the hitting records.

Tex Covington led the pitchers of the Central league, but he was not much of a hitter. His mark was .188. He was worked in thirteen games all told, and taken out six times. He is credited with seven won and one lost, and has a better average than Bender, who is second and who is in reality the leading pitcher of the American league. Vean Cregg, Cleveland's sensational youngster, is next to Bender. Walker was taken out seven times and won eight in twenty-one games.

RECREATION 24 W. 39th St., NEW YORK

NEW YORK FIRST; LONDON SECOND

CENSUS MAN SAYS SO

Washington, Nov. 6.—New York city is now the largest organized municipality in the world, Census Director Durand stated recently. His assertion is based on a statement prepared for him by Charles S. Sloane, geographer for the census bureau and also secretary of the board on geographic names. The facts are given as follows:

The twelfth enumeration of Great Britain, in 1911, furnishes new figures of population both for the administrative county of London and for what is termed "Greater London." The thirteenth census of the United States, in 1910, also furnished substantially comparable figures both for New York city as at present constituted, and for what is taken by the census bureau to form the metropolitan district of New York.

New York city, covering an area of 287 square miles, can be compared with the administrative county of London, covering 117 square miles, since New York city comprises Richmond and Queens counties, both of which contain thinly settled areas that are practically farming districts, while all of London county is densely populated. For comparison with Greater London, territory adjoining New York city in the states of New York and New Jersey, has been added to the city to form what is termed the metropolitan district of New York, closely approximating the area of Greater London.

A comparison of the latest census figures for these areas shows that in population New York city has passed the administrative county of London and that in a few years Greater London will contain fewer inhabitants than the metropolitan district of New York. As Greater London can scarcely be considered a municipality, having no political organization save for the fact that the national government controls the police in its area, it is proper to say that New York is now the largest organized municipality in the world.

According to the last federal census New York city contained in 1910 a population of 4,766,883, and according to the best English census the administrative county of London had in 1911 a population of 4,522,961. The increase in the population of New York city from 1900 to 1910 was 1,329,681, or 38.7 per cent., while during the ten years from 1901 to 1911 the population of the administrative county of London decreased 13,306, or .3 per cent.

According to the returns of the second census, taken in 1800, New York city in the 287 square miles now comprised within its limits had 79,216 inhabitants, and the present area of the administrative county of London at the first English census, taken in 1801, included a population of 950,310, or nearly 900,000 more people than in New York city.

During the decade 1801 to 1811 the percentage of increase of the administrative county of London was 18.8 and its greatest rate of increase during any decade of the past century was 21.2 per cent., from 1841 to 1851. From 1901 to 1911 there was an actual decrease in population of .3 per cent.

New York increased from 1800 to 1810 61.1 per cent., and its highest rate of increase during any decade since that time was 78 per cent., from 1840 to 1850. Since the decade 1860-1870, when it increased at the rate of 25.8 per cent., it has grown at a steadily increasing rate, and during the last decade, 1900-1910, it increased 38.7 per cent.

Assuming that New York city continues to increase during the next ten years at the same rate as during the previous decade, its population in 1920 will be 6,611,667, while London county, should it decrease at the same rate as during the previous decade, will have 4,510,986 inhabitants at the same date, a difference of over 2,000,000. As New York's percentage of increase has been steadily increasing, and that of the administrative county of London steadily decreasing, the difference in 1920 may be even greater.

London, however, has outgrown the administrative county and a Greater London has been referred to and its population announced as that of London for many years. The Greater London, which is made up of the administrative county of London and what is termed the "outer ring," was returned in 1911 with a population of 7,252,963, in an area approximately 693 square miles. It would be unfair to compare this population with New York city alone, but a fair comparison can be made with the territory marked off by the census bureau as the metropolitan district of New York, comprising an area of approximately 702 square miles. Part of the metropolitan district lies in New Jersey. In 1860 the population of this metropolitan district was 1,417,344 and in 1910 the population had increased to 6,390,638

During the decades beginning with 1861 the rates of increase for Greater London have been, respectively, 20.6, 22.7, 18.2, 16.8 and 10.2.

Since 1870 the rate of growth of the metropolitan district of New York has steadily increased, while that of Greater London has steadily decreased. In view of these tendencies it is not unreasonable to assume that the rate per cent. of increase from 1910 to 1920 will be for the New York district at least as high, and for the London district at least as low, as from 1900 to 1910. Taking the percentages as the same, in 1920 the New York metropolitan district will have at least 1,000,000 more inhabitants than Greater London. In fact, on this assumption, the former will have passed the latter by 1915, the population estimated for the metropolitan district of New York at that time being 7,691,546, and for Greater London 7,548,683.

New York can therefore undoubtedly soon justly claim that it has within the area of its metropolitan district the greatest aggregation of population in the world.

Assuming also that the rates of increase in population shown for the last decade, 1900-1910, will be continued to 1930, New York city alone will have before 1930 more population than Greater London, the estimates for 1930 being 9,170,382 for New York city and 8,808,027 for Greater London.

ELLIOTT DIES FROM INJURIES

Was Struck by Body of Man Killed by a Train at Tippecanoe.

W. C. Elliott, agent at Tippecanoe for the Nickel Plate, died yesterday from injuries sustained by being struck by the body of John Fawler, a farmer when he was struck by the westbound passenger train No. 3 last Thursday. Fawler, who was a farmer residing in that vicinity, was crossing the railway tracks and Mr. Elliott was rushing towards him to pull him from in front of the train when the fatality occurred. It was supposed that Mr. Elliott was not seriously hurt, but he sustained internal injuries which did not develop for a few days.

Mr. Elliott was about seventy-one years old. When the Nickel Plate was opened to business twenty-nine years ago General Manager Louis Williams brought him from the C., H. & D. and installed him as agent at Tippecanoe and he remained there since. He had been assisted in the work by his daughter, who is a telegraph operator, and in later years she has performed the greater portion of the clerical part of the work. The deceased was a member of the Nickel Plate Veterans' association and was known and highly esteemed by all employes of the Western division.

WABASH MEN AGAIN IN CONFERENCE

Want More Wages and Better Working Conditions.

representatives of the various crafts in the shops at the several divisions and E. F. Needham, superintendent of motive power, at Springfield today, and possibly tomorrow. It is understood here that the men are demanding some changes in working conditions and also an increase in wages, but just what the demand embraces is not known out of official or committee circles. The Fort Wayne delegation at the conference is composed of C. W. Koenig, of the blacksmiths; F. J. Swartz, of the pipefitters; E. F. Seibold, of the boilermakers; W. Gabriel, of the machinists, and H. A. Koenig, of the carpenters. There is no immediate danger of a strike, if there is to be one at any time, for the men will have to take their case before General Manager Henry Miller, if they fail to come to a definite agreement with the motive power department head, and failing with Mr. Miller, will take the matter up to President F. A. Delano and the board of directors before a strike occurs.

RAILWAY CONVENTIONS.

They Are of Great Benefit to the Foremen.

In a communication to the Railway Age Gazette, George H. Roberts, machine foreman of the Morris Park shops of the Long Island, says:

"Shop foremen, until within the last few years, have seldom had an opportunity of getting out to see what others are doing. Things have changed and now he may attend the conventions and meet men in his own line of work from all over the country. He can remain at home and read the proceedings of the conventions in the technical papers, but it is impossible for him to take the interest in them or receive the benefits that he would by attendance at the conventions. If a man does not read or come in contact with other men in his line of work he is liable to become set and labor under the impression that he is accomplishing the best that can be done.

"In these days of progress one must be constantly on the alert or find himself left behind, for practices and methods considered good today are discarded tomorrow for something better. The conventions offer the foreman a solution for many of his troubles; he meets other men holding similar positions, and an exchange of ideas is possible, from which much benefit may be derived. By becoming a member of one or more of the associations it will awaken a desire to accomplish something himself and not merely to hear what others are doing.

"Merely leaving his troubles at the shop and attending the convention will do him more good than all the medicine in the country; in fact, a little trip as a rule does any one a great deal of good; a change of scene will do wonders towards health and happiness to persons confined to the same scenes day in and day out. A farmer whose wife had been taken to an asylum was questioned as to the reason, and replied: 'I don't see why she should have gone crazy, for she hasn't been out of that kitchen for nigh on twenty years.'

"There is a general feeling of good fellowship at the conventions, all being ready to discuss a point or something new in the shape of a machine or appliance. The exhibits, especially at the master mechanics' and master car builders' conventions, are very instructive, as practically all the latest developments in machines and railway appliances are exhibited, with able men to explain and demonstrate them. The work accomplished by the Master Car Builders' association is world renowned. By having M. C. B. standards, it is possible for a New England freight car to travel all the way to the Pacific coast and return without being held up for a journal box, brass, drawbar or a pair of wheels. A few years ago this was impossible.

"The large railway systems have adopted standard locomotives to permit of equalizing the power from one line to another; this would be practically impossible if each line had its own designs regardless of the other parts of the system. If this has paid, it certainly must pay to have the various foremen and higher officers meet to discuss and decide on the best methods for important operation in the shop.

"The social side must not be overlooked, for at most of the conventions delightful programs are prepared for the entertainment of the members and their families, making it a pleasant event to look forward to each year. The conventions broaden a man socially and mentally, keep him up to date, and are an incentive for him to achieve greater things."

INAUGURATES NEW METHOD.

"Katy" Electric Telpherage System in Freight House.

The new freight house at St. Louis of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road, the "Katy," is attracting attention from railway men in all parts of the country because of the new method of handling freight in less than car load lots. This system is called the "electric telpherage," and it consists of a crane which picks up the freight house trucks and delivers them at the desired point on either floors of the big building. It is one of the greatest labor saving systems inaugurated in the past ten years in freight handling methods. W. E. Davis, of the staff of General Superintendent A. M. Schoyer, of the Pennsylvania, left for St. Louis this morning to make a thorough examination of the plant. The Pennsylvania will probably install a similar plant in two freight houses to be built soon. Mr. Davis will go to New York after his trip to St. Louis to inspect other freight houses.

Experimental Station at 'Lights is Complete.

The machinery for manufacturing ice under the Audiffren system has been installed at the Fort Wayne Electric works and as soon as some chemicals now over due arrive, experiments will commence, followed by the installation of machinery for building the apparatus for sale. Thomas M. Myers, who accompanied J. J. Wood to France to examine the machines and to secure the right to build and sell them in America, has arrived her and has taken the office of chief engineer of the Audiffren Refrigerator company, which owns the patents for the United States and possessions. The General Electric company will have the exclusive manufacture of the machines and they will be built in Fort Wayne. H. W. Johns-Manville company, of New York, will have the selling rights. The men interested in this industry expect a big demand for the machines and Mr. Wood said a few days ago that 500 men would be engaged in building them inside of a year. The machine was described by the Sentinel some weeks ago.

MR. HORNER'S BOYS.

General Passenger Agent Will Entertain Official Family.

General Passenger Agent B. F. Horner, of the Nickel Plate, has invited "his boys," as he calls the district and traveling passenger agents of the company, to a "blow out" at Chicago Thursday and Friday, November 9 and 10. The first day of the gathering will be devoted to business and, if precedent is followed, the second day will be devoted to pleasure, which will include a trip somewhere. Mr. Horner thinks a great deal of his "boys" and takes good care of them on these annual gatherings. Frank P. Parnin, traveling passenger agent of the Western division, will attend the meeting and men from all other sections of the country wherein the Nickel Plate has branch offices, will be present. There will be twenty-two plates at the banquet if all are there.

PENNSY WILL BE IN IT.

Will Make Rates to Chicago for Stock Show.

The local Pennsylvania passenger agent has been advised that the company will meet the Nickel Plate in the $2 rate to Chicago December 7, when the Fat Stock show and the Irrigation Congress will be held in that city. The company will sell tickets for all of the trains that do not charge excess fare and will have a special train out of Fort Wayne at 9 o'clock. Tickets will be on sale from 3 o'clock Thursday morning, December 7, to the same hour Friday morning. The Nickel Plate will also sell tickets a similar period and on both roads they will be good returning until Monday night, giving the excursionists five days in Chicago if they wish it.

ALL GETTING WELL.

Boiler Explosion Victims on Road to Recovery.

News from the hospital at Lima wherein the men injured in the boiler explosion accident on the Pennsylvania last Wednesday are confined is to the effect that they are getting along first rate and will recover. Herman Zelt, the fireman who was supposed to be fatally hurt, is now in a fair way to speedy recovery. He had planned to quit the road in March and go to farming and it is presumed that he will not make any more trips over the line as a fireman, even if he recovers soon.

FIREMAN HURT IN EXPLOSION

HERMAN F. W. ZELT.

Herman F. W. Zelt, the Pennsylvania fireman who was thought to have been fatally hurt in the explosion of the boiler of a locomotive east of Lima, Ohio, a few days ago, is now on the way to recovery. He was terribly scalded and otherwise injured and for a time his life was despaired of. He is in the hospital at Lima, Ohio.

MUSICIANS' NEW ROSTER.

The election of No. 58, American Federation of Musicians, resulted as follows: President, Louis S. C. Schroeder; vice president, John Miles; secretary, Franz Rehling; treasurer, George Golecke; sergeant-at-arms, Ed L. Schaeffer; board of directors, F. J. Reineke, R. Parks White, H. P. Scherer, Max Schneider and P. B. Drager; board of examiners, John L. Verweire, F. J. Reineke and Edwin Dicey; delegates to the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor, William Hatfield, Ed Stoner, William Mensing, Ed Schaeffer and Ed Hodshire. The newly elected officers will be installed December 3.

CROWD NUMBERED 860.

The Nickel Plate's week-end excursion to Cleveland Saturday was well patronized at all stations between this city and Bellevue. Of course, Fort Wayne contributed the biggest delegation, there being 247 passengers on the special train when it left the city, and it picked up enough more at the stations between Fort Wayne and Bellevue to swell the crowd to 791. Bellevue sent a delegation of sixty-nine, making the total 860. The train was split at Bellevue and run in two sections.

DICK THOMSON HERE.

E. F. Thomson, whom the boys call "Dick" for short, is here spending a couple days with his brother and with his numerous friends. Mr. Thomson is now private secretary to G. G. Yeomans, assistant to President F. A. Delano, of the Wabash. Before taking that position he was employed as stenographer and clerk in the master mechanic's office in this city.

HAND BADLY CUT.

H. E. Finzo, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, had the outer side of his left hand badly cut Saturday and the fate of the little finger is in doubt. The cut is at the knuckle and it extends a considerable distance.

WILL GIVE PEDRO PARTY.

The ladies interested in the Nickel Plate B. L. E. will give a pedro party at the hall Friday evening on West Main street.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

G. A. Prince and J. F. Milner, Pennsylvania engineers, are sick and off duty.

A. E. Mills, Pennsylvania engineer, is off duty on account of the sickness of his wife.

Mrs. W. F. O'Conner and daughters, Thelma and Catherine, have returned from Chicago, where they visited a week.

Fireman A. H. Hartman, of the G. R. & I., has gone to Grand Rapids to spend a few days attending to some private business.

Engineers F. E. Nickolai and T. S. Foley and Firemen G. F. Gerlock, Barney Merkler and J. F. Randall, of the G. R. & I., are sick and off duty.

Philip Sweeney, general foreman of the electrical department of the Pennsylvania shops, resumed work this morning. He was sick two weeks.

J. R. Heidrick, a fireman on the G. R. & I. had to ask to be relieved from duty at Ridgeville yesterday on account of injuring one of his hands. The accident will keep him off duty a few days.

Mrs. B. A. Leair, of Cumberland, Md., who had been visiting her brother, Assistant Foreman Frank Opatz, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop for several weeks, left for Cincinnati this morning to visit her married daughter before returning to her home.

Seaweeds are not nourished from the soil like other weeds, but feed upon material that abounds in all sea water.

Orphan asylums are unknown in Australia. Every destitute orphan child is placed in a private family, which cares for it until the child is fourteen years of age at government expense. The family is further remunerated for its services by the government.

"OLOKLEN"
Pronounced O-LO-KLEN
The Dry Cleaners' Money-Making Secret Exposed
No longer need you pay exorbitant charges to "dry cleaners" to have your unwashable goods renovated. No longer need you attempt to do this work yourself and make a failure of it for lack of proper materials.
Do your own cleaning right with OLOKLEN and save exorbitant charges
All dry cleaners use a preparation in their gasoline to assist in the cleansing. Gasoline alone will no more do the work than water alone washes right. Use Oloklen in gasoline the same as you use soap in water and you can do a perfect job of dry cleaning easily, quickly and economically. Full directions with every can. Price, 50 cents, enough to do $10 to $15 worth of dry cleaning.

Adventures of a Joke.

A few months ago the following jest appeared in the Transcript's humor column:

Litigant (to lawyer)—Your fee is outrageous! Why, it's more than three-fourths of what I recovered.

Lawyer—I furnished the skill and legal learning for your case.

Litigant—But I furnished the case.

Lawyer—Oh, anybody can fall down a coal hole!

Our little bit of fun went the rounds of the American papers and finally reached England. This is the shape in which it appeared in one of the English weekly papers. Students of differentiation in national humors please note:

LEGAL CALCULATION.

Litigant (to lawyer)—Your charges are outrageous, sir. Why, they are actually two-thirds of what I recovered.

Lawyer—Well, that's all right. I furnished the legal knowledge and skill that won your case.

Litigant—But I furnished the case.

Lawyer—Oh, it was easy to provide the case! And, allowing that you did furnish the case, I still maintain that I am entitled to two-thirds of the profit. Three things were necessary to recover damages—one, a case; two legal knowledge; three, skill in pleading. Thus, as I provide two of the essentials and you only one, my claim to two-thirds the damages is only fair.

It's a trifling matter, of course, but somehow we regret the loss of the coal hole.—Boston Transcript.

Will You Spend A Penny To Help Educate Your Children?
Do you want your boy or girl to know as much as your neighbor's children?
When your boy or girl asks you a difficult question, do you turn it aside, or do you answer it fully?
Are you properly helping your child?
The greatest aid in the world for you and your children is a good cyclopedia in your home.
Cyclopedias have two great faults: they cost a fortune, and they are too hard to understand.
Children can't use them—very few grown-ups can.
At last, however, one cyclopedia has been made that is really practical. The publisher spent fifty years learning how to make it. It is absolutely the first really useful cyclopedia for the home ever published.
A sound, accurate, up-to-date set of books, packed with the kind of information that you need every hour in the day. You can understand every word of it, too—so can your children.
And the price? Well, it is so small it is simply astounding. You can buy this big cyclopedia for less than the cost of a good dictionary. Nothing like this ever has been offered you before. Only a new twentieth-century plan of manufacture has made it possible.
You should have this set of books in your home. Your children need it as much as they need food or clothing. And you can afford it, even if your income is small. Investigate it. All you have to do is to put your name and address on a post-card and mail it to Department 24, D. Appleton & Co., 34 West Thirty-third Street, New York. One cent is all you spend, until you have completely satisfied yourself—a penny in the interest of your family!
Your Children Will Thank You For It When They Grow Up

MADERO TAKES OFFICIAL OATH

Leader of Revolution is Sworn in as President of Mexico.

PALE BUT COMPOSED

Mexico City, Nov. 6.—Francisco I. Madero was today inaugurated president of Mexico, succeeding President De La Barra, who filled in the gap after the executive now sworn in had ended the rule of Porforio Diaz. The ceremony was brief and simple and took place before the members of congress in the chamber of deputies at 11 o'clock. The inauguration of Vice President Jose M. Pino Suarez has been posiponed to a date not announced.

Senor Madero was attired in the conventional frock suit. His face was pale as he bowed his acknowledgments to the crowded galleries. The oath was administered by the president of the chamber of deputies.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO FRIEND.

Knitting Mills Official Recalls Late William C. Meyer.

"William C. Meyer, whose death occurred at the Lutheran hospital Saturday, deserves more than passing notice," said a prominent official of the Wayne Knitting mills, today. "He was at his desk on Monday morning of last week, but was taken suddenly ill later in the day, was operated on at the hospital on Tuesday, and died as a result of general peritonitis on Saturday morning. He was twenty-four years of age, just in the prime of life, and heretofore had been in good health, never having missed a day from his work on account of sickness. This makes his sudden taking away extremely sad.

"William Meyer was an exceptional character, the only young man of his kind that has ever come to the notice of his employers. His characteristic honesty, industry and high minded, lofty ideals of life were so exceptional as to make him stand out prominently as one of the choice products of the Creator. Starting ten years ago, at the age of fourteen, in the offices of the Wayne Knitting mills as an office boy, he rose to one of the important positions in the office, and was slated for still higher honors. During all these years it is observed by his superiors that he was never reprimanded, never found loitering, never out of place. The consciousness of his own responsibility made him so live and act that every moment of his life was open for inspection—he had no secrets. His was one of the few souls that are good through and through, and yet he was not what we call the 'goody, goody" kind. He loved music and art, and indulged his tastes along these lines to a considerable extent. His greatest delight was to spend a musical evening at home with a few friends around him, or on nice days to take his camera and snap the beauty spots. Hundreds of friends and acquaintances among fellow employes at the Wayne Knitting mills felt great admiration for Will Meyer as a man, and were proud of their friendship for him. His pleasant greetings and kindly sayings were proverbial in the factory. His salary, from the time he started at the age of fourteen until the last, was disposed of, with the counsel of his widowed mother, and aided by his forethought the family own their own home and have savings accounts. He also carried substantial life insurance.

"His great love for his brothers and sister was best shown by his constant care and attention. He was always ready to assist them in every way, especially in the direction of molding them after his own high and lofty ideals. In this case the old saying, "The Good die young," again came true. In the death of Will Meyer the Wayne Knitting mills loses not only one of its most trusted and valued employes, but also one of the few with qualifications sufficient to be considered in training for a future responsible official who must shape the destiny and carry the burden in years to come. The parting with a man of such sterling qualities is especially sad to his family, his friends, his business associates and his employers, but the world at large is the gainer for the impression he leaves behind."

BAKER TRIED LEG BAIL.

Escaped From Police and Captured After a Short Run.

Harry Baker, held at the county jail on a charge of stealing $33 in cash and a watch from a Pennsylvania conductor, made a break for liberty as he was being taken from the auto-patrol to the Miner photograph gallery this morning and was captured near the Anthony hotel, on Harrison street in a few minutes.

He was later "mugged" and taken back to jail. As he and two other prisoners were being taken from the patrol he ran and the auto was sent in pursuit. The prisoner is not regarded by the officers as mentally balanced as he returned after he had spent the money he stole and asked for his old place back with the owner of the Harmon house, where he was employed at the time of his crime.

WASHINGTON CASE BEGINS.

New York, Nov. 6.—Booker T. Washington, appeared in court here today as the principal witness at the trial of Henry A. Ulrich, the white man who gave the famous negro educator a beating one night last March, when he found him in the vestibule of an apartment house where Ulrich roomed, on West 63rd. street. Ulrich was arrested on a charge of assault. James L. Moore, one of the first contributors to a fund for the development of Tuskogee institute, of which Dr. Washington is the head, appeared as Ulrich's counsel.

JURY FURTHER CUT DOWN.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—Two more talesmen were released today from jury service on the McNamara murder trial soon after court opened. Seaborn Mannings, the farmer, whose health caused his fellow talesmen to ask the court that he be permitted to withdraw, was excused. Over the earnest objection of the state, Judge Bordwell also excused W. H. Andrews, over whom opposing counsel wrangled for two days.

"GET-RICH-QUICK WALLINGFORD" GOT HITCHED QUICK.

GEORGE RANDOLPH CHESTER AND HIS NEW WIFE.

George Randolph Chester, the writer, creator of "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," is a much worried and perplexed young man. Mr. Chester got "hitched" too quickly, and thereby hangs a tale. He arrived in New York from Europe a few days ago with a new bride. His first wife obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband in New York on October 11 last, and Mr. Chester had no right to remarry, at least just yet. Mr. Chester says he is willing to stand the consequences for his oversight.

BULLETIN.

New York, Nov. 6.—Henry Ulrich, the white man who was charged with an assault upon Booker T. Washington, the negro educator, was acquitted today in the court of special sessions. The trial began this morning. After the acquittal Ulrich was arraigned on a charge of desertion.

THE COURTS.

Drank Beer With Strangers.

Malan White says that after Dora White lived with him from June, 1909, to April, 1910, she left him and went to live with one Keck, whose first name the husband does not know.

Aside from that the woman is charged with drinking beer with strange men and with having them call at her home in the absence of her husband.

Fuchshuber Case on Trial.

The case of Leonard Fuchshuber, charged with perjury, was placed on trial in the circuit court today. He is charged with having given some false testimony in a damage suit on hearing before Judge O'Rourke, who insisted on having the case investigated by the grand jury.

Fuchshuber was formerly a city employe and was stationed at the reservoir as watchman. Judge J. D. Merryman, of Decatur, is presiding.

Two New Transfers.

All of the applicants who appeared before the county commissioners today were granted liquor licenses as there was no remonstrance or objections filed. Henry Erlich transferred his rolling mills saloon to Paully Bunch and Albert Schele transferred his to Schele & Simmons.

Given a Divorce Decree.

Jennie Shoemaker secured a divorce from James Shoemaker in the superior court and was given the custody of their child.

FINDS LADY GAMBLERS.

Chicago Officers' Raid on Poolroom Uncovers a Surprise.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Assistant Chief Schuettler's new gambling squad broke down the doors of a flat in the west side residence district and then stopped abashed early today. Instead of the usual assortment of men they expected to find were seven women clostered about the paraphernalia of a pool room. The women were arrested. One as the keeper of a handbook and the others as inmates of a gambling house. One of these arrested, as an inmate was 72 years old.

Cascarets Cure a Bilious Headache

Gently But Thoroughly Cleanse Your Liver, Stomach and Bowels and You Feel Great by Morning.

You're bilious, you have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that every disorder of the stomach, liver and intestines can be quickly cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you and the entire family feeling good for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken. adv

BLAZE DUE TO GASOLINE.

Furniture and Rear Porch at Home of Will Olds Damaged by Fire.

Gasoline, used in the renovation of furniture, was responsible for a blaze at the residence of J. H. Simonson, occupied by Will Olds, at 225 West Berry street, about 10:45 o'clock this morning, causing between $200 and $300 damage to the furniture and the rear porch of the residence, which was burned away. The blaze started on the furniture, which was being cleaned with the gasoline on the back porch of the residence, and it is thought started from spontaneous combustion.

CITY BREVITIES.

Fleming McKinnie, 11 years old, son of W. M. McKinnie, fractured both bones of his right forearm in cranking an automobile Saturday afternoon.

The East Side division of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be entertained Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Ernest Law, 325 West Leith street. It can be most conveniently reached by taking the Pontiac car.

Oscar Miller, of West Main street, has returned from a four-months' pleasure trip through the west.

The Anthony Wayne chapter will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. A. Parry, 333 West DeWald street, Tuesday evening.

Charles W. Orr, general agent of the Aetna Life Insurance company, today paid a policy which had been issued more than thirty-two years ago, having been dated March 11, 1879.

The population of India is 315,000,000, though its area is not greater than that of nine or ten of our western states.

Don't Trifle with a Cold

Cure It Quickly By Nature's Method.

Soothing syrups and patent cough medicines are generally dangerous, containing drugs and opiates which deaden the functions instead of supplying the healing ingredients which build up the system and expel the poisons due to inflammation of the mucous membrane, or to excessive uric acid.

You can rid yourself of cold in the head, sore throat, bronchitis, catarrh, leuchorrhoea, foul breath, rheumatic pains, and that miserable feeling of approaching "grippe," by this simple formula. Mix the contents of a half-ounce vial of virgin oil of pine with two ounces of glycerine and half a pint of pure whisky. Take a teaspoonful every four hours.

Your trouble will be gone in less than a day and you will not need to stay in bed or discontinue your regular duties. Be careful to get the genuine virgin oil of pine, which always comes in sealed wooden cartons bearing the name of the Leach Chemical company, of Cincinnati, Ohio. This is your guarantee of purity and freshness.

BIG SEASON FOR MOOSE IN MAINE

Animals Have Been Well Protected by Law and Are Pentiful.

FIRST SPECIMENS IN

Bangor, Maine, Nov. 6.—Maine's moose hunting season began on October 15, and already the first specimens have reached Bangor. The earliest arrival was an 800-pound bull, shot near Macwahoc by H. W. Potter, of this city. Reports as to the number and conditions of the game are conflicting, but there is reason to believe the moose are more numerous than for some years. Not many have been killed in recent seasons, as the law limits the killing to bulls, at least one year old. Cow moose or calves are not to be killed at any season, under severe penalities. The open season is from October 15 to December 1, and any resident is free to get one bull moose. Non-residents must pay a license fee of $15, but they may kill two deer.

Most of Maine's moose are in the far northern forests, along the headwaters of the Penobscot, along the Allagash and upper St. John rivers, and in the region around Moosehead lake, although many are found in the neighborhood of the Rangely lakes in Western Maine, and in Washington county, in the southeastern part of the state. From the northern and eastern hunting regions there have been brought to Bangor in the last ten years about 2,100 moose, ranging in weight from 600 to 1,100 pounds, the weight in recent years seldom exceeding 800 pounds. The bull moose looks much heavier than he really is, and from that circumstance arises the common exaggeration of his weight, but there is no exaggeration of his ugly temper.

Spectacle to Tingle the Nerves.

There is a thrill in hunting the moose that does not come to the sportsman in pursuit of any other game in Maine, unless a fight at close quarters with a black bear be excepted. A good-sized bull moose, standing higher than an ordinary horse, with massive forequarters, bristly mane and huge head adorned with heavy antlers, presents a spectacle that well might shake the nerves.

The antlers of a well-grown bull weigh sixty to seventy pounds. With great, spreading edges and wide palms, their serrated edges number ten to twenty points on a side. A head is valued for its appearance. The "bell" is a tuft of gristle and hair which hangs from the under side of the neck, reaching in some cases down to the brisket.

In April the calves are born in the dark thickets, where they remain until they are able to scamper around. When the flies appear the cow takes her calf to the water, where lily pads are plentiful and where there is refuge from the flies. All summer long the moose remain by the lakes and ponds, feeding on lily pads and stalks and wading in the cool water.

How He Feeds.

To get food the moose shoves his great head down under water and, with his sensitive muzzle, feels around in the mud for the stalks. Then he rises to his feet, throws the water in every direction as he shakes himself, like a dog, or lets the water drip over his back to drive away the flies.

When feeding in this way the moose may be approached within a short distance. Canoeing parties during the summer have taken many pictures of giant bull moose with cows and calves.

The antlers of the bull first appear as little knobs covered with velvet-like hair, and their development is rapid. The "velvet" remains until September, when it is gradually rubbed off against the trees. In late September, when the water begins to cool, the moose leaves the lakes and streams and strikes back onto the ridges, where he finds his winter food.

When the frosts begin to turn the leaves to red and brown the bull moose starts off in search of a mate. This is the time he is most dangerous. He knows no fear, and will fight anything from a man to a locomotive. It was at this season the guides formerly got many a fine bull by calling with a birch bark horn to imitate the call of the cow. Paddling his canoe to some spot where he has located a bull, the guide begins to sound the low, sibilant notes, and if there is a bull moose within hearing he is almost sure to set out pell-mell for the spot. He repeats his bellow at intervals as he approaches, and finally bursts from the woods near where the hunter waits silently in his canoe. Then, if the hunter is steady and an expert shot, there is one bull moose the less in the woods of Maine.

Jacklights Are Prohibited.

Jacking, once commonly practiced, has fallen into disuse, being strictly forbidden by law under heavy penalties. The jacklight usually was carried in the bow of a canoe paddled closely about the shore. Surprised feeding among the lily pads, the moose would stand as if charmed in the rays of the light, an easy mark for the hunter. Instances are related, however, of moose charging furiously at the light, sometimes wrecking the canoe and escaping.

At this season the bull moose are thin and their flesh so strongly flavored it is not at all desirable for eating. When heavy snow falls and traveling through the woods becomes difficult the moose go into "yards." A moose yard may cover 300 or 400 acres on a hardwood ridge. Here the bulls, cows and calves gather together to spend the winter, feeding on the small twigs and tender sprouts of the hardwood trees.

The moose in the yard are easy prey for the hunter who cares to risk the penalties of the law. Once out of the yard and in deep snow the moose is practically helpless and can be killed with ease.

PROPER TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

The first thing to be done in the treatment of Catarrh is to begin the use of a medicine that will have a direct effect on the source of the disease; in no other way can any curative progress be made. S. S. S. does this more quickly and satisfactorily than any other medicine. It is the most penetrating of all blood purifiers, thoroughly, yet gently, expelling all catarrhal matter and impurities from the circulation, and by its fine tonic properties strengthening and building up the system in such healthy manner that it is enabled to overcome the depressing effects of Catarrh. Some local treatment is often desired to open the air passages of the head and nose and relieve the congestion and "tickling" of the throat, and other unpleasant symptoms. There are many helpful measures which may be resorted to, and there are others which may be harmful, and to aid Catarrh sufferers we have prepared a special treatise on the disease which will be of great value to any who suffer with this trouble. This book together with any medical advice free to all who write and request it. Take S. S. S regularly and according to directions, and it will certainly remove the cause and cure your Catarrh. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

STATE MEETING OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Big Annual Gathering to Be Held in Anderson Nov. 24 to 26.

NOTED MEN BOOKED.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—Preliminary announcements concerning the forty-second annual convention of the Indiana Young Men's Christian association to be held in Anderson November 24 to 26, together with a completed list of speakers for the three-day session, were issued today from the office of the state committee in this city. It is stated that the list of speakers this year is one of the most notable the committee officials have ever had the pleasure of presenting to a convention. The speakers are:

Hon. Charles Warren Fairbanks, former vice president.

W. J. Robinson, president United States Linen Flax corporation, Chicago.

Dr. Francis J. McConnell, president of DePauw university.

Dr. O. E. Brown, of Vanderbilt university.

Dr. Charles Reign Scoville, evangelist.

Dr. Fred E. Taylor, pastor First Baptist church, Indianapolis.

J. M. Clinton, secretary in Tokyo, Japan.

It is announced that Mr. Fairbanks, who has an extensive knowledge of association affairs and conduct abroad as well as in the United States, has consented to deliver an address to the convention business men's dinner the first evening of the session. Mr. Robinson, who has a vitally important message to business men, will also speak at this dinner.

It is planned to make the convention business men's dinner on the evening of November 24 one of the principal features of the entire convention period in Anderson, and it is expected that the largest number of delegates ever in attendance on a state convention will be present. The state committee is making special and urgent appeals to business men of the state to participate in association convention functions, and from present indications these appeals will be answered by a large delegation of enthusiastic business men.

The Bible hour series, another important feature of the three-day period, will be in charge of Dr. Brown, of Vanderbilt university. He is chairman of the Tennessee state executive committee and is thoroughly familiar with this nature of work, particularly among students. Dr. Taylor will deliver the opening address on November 24. The Sunday afternoon meeting for men—always an interesting event of the convention—will be in charge of Dr. Charles Reign Scoville, one of America's foremost evangelists. This meeting will take place in the Anderson opera house.

In view of the present internal warfare in China the convention address of J. M. Clinton, formerly of Odon, Ind., but now secretary among Chinese students of the association in Tokyo, Japan, is going to be not only interesting, but very profitable, coming as it will from one who has made an intimate study of conditions in the orient for a number of years. Mr. Clinton was graduated from the law department of the University of Indiana in 1901, was secretary of the central association of Buffalo, N. Y., and went to Hankow, China, in 1907, and thence to Tokyo at the beginning of the migration of Chinese and Koreans from their own countries to the capital of Nippon.

George D. McDill, western field secretary of the international committee, will also participate in the convention meetings.

The principal convention sessions will be held in the Central Christian church auditorium, opposite the public library, and headquarters will be maintained in the Grand hotel. Entertainment will be provided for delegates in Anderson homes if the names of delegates are in the hands of W. D. Corsant, chairman, Anderson, not later than November 21.

A special appeal to all association leaders is made through the preliminary announcement to begin at once active efforts for adequate and representative delegations from every community in the state served by an association.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

JUAN RODRIGUEZ.

Juan Rodriguez, a Spanish fisherman, underwent a thrilling experience during which he was adrift at sea for thirty days in a flat bottom boat before he was picked up 170 miles off the coast of Martinique by the steamship Ikaria. He was more dead than alive when rescued. He managed to keep alive during his perilous voyage by eating raw fish.

"I am pleased to recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as the best thing I know of and safest remedy for coughs, colds and bronchial trouble," writes Mrs. L. B. Arnold of Denver, Colo. "We have used it repeatedly and it has never failed to give relief." For sale by all dealers.

The Anthony is for you. Meet your friends here. The lobby, the cafe, the ladies' parlor are all at your service. A hearty welcome goes with this invitation.

DREAD PELLAGRA DEFIES SCIENCE

Even Disease's Origin is Not Absolutely Known.

MANY CASES SOUTH

Washington, Nov. 6.—Pellagra is increasing annually more than 100 per cent. There were more than 10,300 cases in eleven southern states alone this summer as against about 1,000 in thirteen states two years ago. The public health and marine hospital service will ask for an appropriation of $50,000 at the next session of congress to be used in fighting the malady.

The annual report of Surgeon-General Wyman, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service will present the situation in such a light as to call for serious consideration. Medical literature contains practically nothing about pelagra, which was first discovered in this country in 1905. The hospital service has given over one hospital and the services of two officials entirely to the observation and care of pellagra cases.

The hospital at Savannah is in charge of Dr. C. H. Lavinder, while Dr. R. H. Grimm spends all his time in the field investigating and passing on applicants for admission to the hospital. In addition the service has sent out from time to time such data as it has been able to collect, and this is practically all the information the medical profession in this country has to rely upon.

The eleven southern states where the disease has been most virulent and where there were 10,300 cases now this year, are Virginia, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Louisiana, Texas and Kentucky. It is reported that in one North Carolina town of less than 25,000 inhabitants, 200 cases of pellagra have sprung up this summer. A north Carolina physician has estimated for the Public Health service that there have been 50,000 cases in this state alone since the disease was discovered six years ago.

Few northern states have suffered seriously from the disease. Illinois has had more cases than any other northern state. New York has had few cases, and the District of Columbia several, though most of those in the District were traced directly to some point farther south. In all, the disease has been reported from thirty-one states.

Some state authorities have begun campaign against the disease. California has made its quarantinable. However, it is not believed to be either contagious or infectious. The rate of mortality in this country is estimated at between 50 and 75 per cent., a much higher rate than in Italy, where pellagra is supposed to have originated. About 20 per cent. of the cases reach the insanity stage, filling the hospitals and asylums of the south with a loathsome form of mental disease.

Dr. Lavinder was sent to Italy last year to study the disease, and met there investigators from England. The Italian's theory is that the disease is caused by eating spoiled corn, and that theory has been generally accepted in this country.

There are two other theories, however. One is that the disease is caused by the sting of a sandfly. The other attributes it to the water-borne trematode, an Italian blood-infecting insect. These two theories have attracted attention in Italy and are now being investigated there. In this country the fight is still being made on the assumption that spoiled corn or corn products is the principal cause.

Like cholera, pellagra is checked by cold weather. But those cases which are contracted late and apparently cured by cold weather, often hibernate and return again the following spring. In some cases the recurrence continues for years ultimately ending in insanity. In other cases not more than two weeks may elapse between the first symptoms and death.

The malady is now being treated as a nervous affliction with blood manifestations, but the physicians admit that further knowledge may change the diagnosis.

Laboratory-Tested Milk
Utterly Free From Germs

For Less Than Thin, Germ-Laden Milk

Mrs. Housewife—

Close to each of our dairies, in seven northern states, we maintain a complete milk laboratory. There we test the milk's richness and purity. There we prove that it's free from germs.

Our standards are fixed by famous Dutch and Swiss experts. And there is no finer milk produced in the world than the milk they select for you.

Richness Doubled

The milk fresh from the cows is put into a copper vacuum. There, in moderate heat, we evaporate two-thirds of the water. Thus the richness of the milk is much more than doubled.

It is then as thick as thick cream—28 per cent solids, 8 per cent butter fat. Yet, save for the water, it remains natural milk. Nothing whatever is added. When you put back the water you have milk just as it came from the cow, except for sterilization.

Like Using Cream

In coffee and on cereals this milk is just like cream, so rich that most people reduce it. In cooking it gives to milk dishes a most surprising flavor.

Yet this is nothing but milk—just the whole, rich milk. You don't often get that from the milkman because the milk separates. Before it gets to the cooking it is often only a half-milk.

Used on the table you have the advantage of using a germless milk. Raw milk, as you know, is always germ-laden. Nothing else that is eaten or drunk carries so much infection. Van Camp's Milk is pasteurized after the can is sealed. It is absolutely free from germs.

You can buy, if you wish, a month's supply at a time. It is always on hand—milk or cream—and never any waste. An opened can keeps until you use it up.

Think of buying milk from day to day—milk always filled with germs—when a milk like this can be always on hand, always fresh, always the best milk produced in America.

It's Cheaper, Too

Our method saves the cost of daily delivery. That's about four cents per quart. And it saves all waste. In the average family the use of Van Camp's cuts milk bills square in two.

This milk—from the finest high-bred cows—tested and pasteurized—costs less than milk-wagon milk. Do you wonder that people now use all we can get from 30,000 cows?

The 16-oz. can—a full pint of Van Camp's—costs 10 cents. The 6-oz. can costs 5 cents. That's with two-thirds the water evaporated. Your grocer gets it direct from our nearest dairy.

KNEW EACH OTHER BY SIGNET RINGS

Sisters, Parted for Eighteen Years, Meet in Hotel Lobby.

REUNITED ONCE MORE

Los Angeles, Nov. 6.—Two sisters who parted as school girls in England eighteen years ago met in the lobby of the Van Nuys hotel the other night by appointment, but would not have recognized each other had it not been for signet rings worn by them.

The sisters are Mrs. T. C. Browning, wife of an American farmer at Colton, and Mrs. Teer Burton, of London, whose husband is a prosperous business man there. Mrs. Burton crossed the ocean to see her sister.

The women met in the entrance to the elevator of the hotel. Mrs. Browning faced her sister as she was entering the car to ascend to her room. Each woman drew back to make room for the other. Then their glances fell upon the signet rings upon their fingers, and they called each other's name. In another minute they were in each other's arms. The husbands stood sheepishly by and introduced themselves.

"I guess we are brothers-in-law," said Mr. Burton, extending his hand for a cordial shake.

"You hit it right!" exclaimed Mr. Browning. "They are sisters all right."

Mrs. Browning had reached the Van Nuys before the arrival of her sister, and could not refrain from going in a taxicab to meet her sister at the train. She believed she would readily recognize her. But time had effaced recognition, although both women are still comely and young looking.

Mrs. Browning missed her sister at the depot, although she must have passed directly by her. Then the Colton woman drove with all haste to the hotel. Mrs. Browning was about to start upstairs to greet her sister when chance threw them directly in each other's paths.

Mrs. Browning when still a girl in her teens left her home in England for a visit to relatives in New York. She was taken ill there and forced to come to California for her health, where she married and has since remained.

The sisters corresponded frequently and at last Mrs. Burton decided to come to California and make her home here, where they could always be together.

THE FLEET SALUTING THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY

REAR ADMIRAL OSTERHAUS LEAVING THE CONNECTICUT TO VISIT SECRETARY MEYER

SECRETARY MEYER RECEIVING VISITORS ABOARD THE MAYFLOWER

SECRETARY MEYER ON BOARD THE CONNECTICUT

From the deck of the President's Yacht, the Mayflower, in the Hudson River, George von L. Meyer, Secretary of the Navy, inspected the most powerful fleet the United States ever assembled. Among the many guests of Secretary Meyer on board the Mayflower were members of the Senate and House Naval committees and other distinguished persons.

The inspection had a warlike suggestion, for immediately after Mr. Meyer and his guests stepped aboard the Mayflower she belched forth a salute of nineteen guns. Presently the Connecticut, the flagship of Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, commander in chief of the fleet, did likewise. Later as Mr. Meyer went aboard the flagships of the various divisions they fired the nineteen gun salute accorded the head of the Navy Department. Still later, as the Mayflower, which in size appeared insignificant in comparison, steamed by the line of battle ships in making a review, each in turn fired nineteen guns, the reports of which reverberated over the river and the shore

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 6.—Rain in the Argentine Republic, where the downpours of late have been cause of anxiety, gave wheat today a firm tone. The absence of any disturbing news as to the supposed federal proceedings against alleged irregularities on the part of the leading warehouse concerns had also a bullish influence. There was gossip, too, that the big trading interests which unloaded around the top of the recent bulge were looking for a favorable opportunity to replace their holdings. The opening was ¼c lower to a shade up. December started at 94¼c to 96½c, ⅛@¼c off, to a sixteenth advance, and then rose to 94⅝c.

Wet weather made corn strong. The country was not selling much. Besides world's shipments were small. December opened ⅜c to ½c higher at 62⅜c to 63c, touched 62¾@62⅞c and ascended to 64¼c.

Purchases by local speculators turned oats in an upward direction. December started ⅛c dearer at 46⅝c, receded to 46½c and afterward climbed to 46⅞c.

Hog products showed a gain all round in accordance with conditions at the yards here. The fact that western receipts were liberal seemed to cut no figure. First sales were 2½c to 22½c higher, with May deliveries $16.50 for pork, $9.40 to $9.42½ for lard and $8.50 for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 6.—Opening prices of stocks showed small and irregular changes. A majority of the active issues, including Reading, Union Pacific and United States Steel were somewhat lower. Lehigh Valley opened fractionally below Saturday's close, but quickly rose to a point above it. Reading also made a quick recovery. Canadian Pacific gained 1½, National Biscuit 1¼ and Northern Pacific a point.

A strong tone developed and the market absorbed sales readily. Railroad stocks were the leaders of the movement, with the Hill group the features. Reading was purchased in amounts ranging up to a block of 6,500 shares. The price reached 148⅞ or 1⅝ points above its weak opening. United States Steel also was purchased in large blocks, but clung closely to Saturday's final prices. Northern Pacific improved 2 points, Great Northern preferred, St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville, American Car preferred and International Harvester 1 to 1¼.

United States Steel advanced to 60⅛, and the copper stocks also showed belated strength. By the time Union Pacific had been forced up to 170¼ the rest of the list began to show the effect of the professional profit taking, which had been in progress on a large scale all morning. Buying came almost to a halt and there was a slight recession on a small volume of business. Bonds were firm.

The market closed strong. Bear operators who did not wish to keep open contracts over the holiday, covered heavily in the closing hours, sending up prices to the highest level of the day. Union Pacific sold 1½ points above Saturday's closing and United States Steel and Reading 1¼.

The Belles.

Oh, the belles,
Summer belles!
What a plenitude of heartaches their giddiness compels!
How they giggle, giggle, giggle,
In the sea breeze laden night!
How their victims squirm and wiggle
In an ecstasy of fright!
How they hurt
When they flirt,
When with ghoulish glee they gloat
On the squirming of a fellow when they have him by the throat!

Oh, the belles,
Brazen belles!
How they conjure, scheme and plan
To entrap the summer man.
The ribbon counter gentlemen who masquerade as swells!

Oh, the belles,
Greedy belles!
How they wring, wring, wring,
Soda water, everything,
From the pockets of those "Cash!" exclaiming swells!

Oh, the belles,
Foxy belles!
What a wealth of hints they fling
To compel the pleasant ring,
Diamond ring!
Ah, the heart engaging ring
Of the golden wedding bells, bells, bells, bells, bells!
Oh, the belles!

WHITE FRUIT HOUSE

35,648 AT WORK IN CANAL ZONE

The Details Showing Rapid Progress of Vast Enterprise.

BIG SUM EXPENDED

Galveston, Texas, Nov. 6.—The Galveston Tribune says it is in receipt of copy of the Canal Record, published at Ancon, on the Panama canal zone. This is the official publication and organ of the residents, both official and private, of the site of the big ditch connecting the two oceans, and it contains about everything from birth and death notices to the prevailing prices of foodstuffs, not forgetting the latest in the struggle for the American and National league pennants. The Record is issued free to all employes of the canal commission whose names are on the "gold" list, while extra copies are sold at five cents each. It is a neatly printed and gotten up magazine, containing much valuable information.

The issue above referred to tells of the beginning of the work of setting machinery for the operation of the locks, which consists of setting in the concrete and masonry of the locks and spillways, locomotive tracks, chain fenders, valve and gate machinery, recess covers, bridges, manhole covers and all parts necessary to the mechanical and electrical installation.

Shovels Nearing Bottom.

The deepest steam shovel cut in the lower rock at Miraflores is now down to forty-six feet below mean sea level, or within five feet of the finished floor grade. Six steam shovels are working in the pit.

In order to increase the water supply of the city of Panama, it has been decided to lay a new twenty-inch main from the Rio Grande reservoir to replace the sixteen-inch main that is now in use.

A building 35x150 feet in size for the housing of convicts during the construction of the road to the canal zone boundary line is under way. For further safety the building is being surrounded by an eight-foot fence strung with barbed wire.

The concrete work in the spillway of Gatun dam is about 70 per cent. completed, 156,406 cubic yards, out of a total of 225,000, having been placed at the close of work on September 23.

About 66 per cent. of the concrete for all the locks is in place, the amount at the close of work on September 23 being 2,765,774½ cubic yards, out of a total of approximately 4,199,400. A total of 33,579½ cubic yards of concrete was laid in the locks during the week ending September 23.

Over 80 per cent. of the concrete for the system of three twin locks at Gatun has been laid, the amount in place at the close of work on September 23, being 1,611,067½ cubic yards, out of a total of 2,000,000. A statement of the amount of concrete placed in the locks each working day for the week ending September 23, and of the total, follows, and a similar statement for the work in the spillway of Gatun dam is published elsewhere in this issue. The construction plant works twelve hours daily and the auxiliary plant nine hours.

On September 20 twenty-one shovels working in the Culebra construction district of the central division excavated 37,203 cubic yards of rock and earth during the working day of eight hours, an average per shovel for every shovel working in the district of 1,771.6 cubic yards per day.

The shovels were under steam 168 hours, at work 121 hours and 25 minutes and waiting for cars 33 hours and 5 minutes. The rest of the time—13 hours and 30 minutes—was lost in repairing shovels, cleaning dipper, mining, repairing track, moving shovel back, etc.

The total force at work on the canal and railroad on August 30 was 35,648, as compared with 34,681 at the end of July, 1911, with 35,867 in August, 1910, and 26,519 in August, 1909. Canal employes numbered 28,872, and railroad employes 6,776. The number of "gold," or white American, employes was 4,141, compared with 4,250 in July, 1911, and with 4,445 in August, 1910.

Total Expenditures.

The table of expenditures to July 31 is also given, showing that the commission had expended the following classified amounts: Department of civil administration $4,964,416.32; department of law, $2,537.25; department of sanitation, $13,332,008.68; department of construction and engineering, $125,470,660.33; general items, $84,315,780.91; total, $228,085,393.89.

The report of the director of posts for the month of August shows that there were 17,239 money orders issued, amounting to $420,193.89. Of this amount, $319,212.76 was issued payable in the United States, $100,110.13 in the canal zone, $611 in Martinique, and $260 in Costa Rica. The fees amounted to $1,859.22, and the amount of orders paid and repaid was $114,685.16.

In the line of sport, there is the record of the bowling teams, pool and billiard matches and some baseball.

For amusements there are amateur theatricals, moving pictures, smokers, Y. M. C. A. entertainments and about everything else that is found in American cities. Notice is also given of a concert to be given by the Isthmian Canal Commission band, the program being made up of popular music such as people at home are enjoying.

RUSH TO GET SEATS AT SAVANNAH RACE

SAVANNAH CHALLENGE CUP OFFERED BY SAVANNAH AUTOMOBILE CLUB.

The sale of reserved seats and boxes for the Grand Prize, the Vanderbilt Cup, and the light car races at Savannah, November 27 and 30, far outstrips any previous sale, and the management is now considering the construction of one hundred additional boxes in order to meet the demand. Mayor Tiedemann is working actively as chairman of the Finance Committee in charge of the meet. Harvey Granger, president of the Savannah Automobile Club, has been advised by the Ocean Steamship Company that a rate of 57 cents for 100 pounds would be granted for automobiles for the races.

with reform movements, although he was not an extremist.

The general, whose full name was Wu Lu Cheng, reported to the government a few days ago that he could persuade the Shen Si rebels to accept the constitution outlined by the national assembly, but at that time a suspicion was current that the general himself was a revolutionist. His attitude has since been a matter of some concern to the Manchus. He was a native of Hu Peh province and in April, 1910, was made deputy lieutenant general of the Bordered Red Mongol Banner.

FORM RED CROSS CORPS.

Tokio, Nov. 7.—Fifty Chinese medical students here have organized a Red Cross corps to serve among both the government and the revolutionary forces. They will start for home on Thursday. A fund to defray the expenses of their work has been raised by the local Chinese colony.

VICEROY COMMITS SUICIDE.

Nanking, China, Nov. 7.—11 p. m.—The viceroy at Nanking committed suicide tonight.

The situation is serious. The viceroy's instructions from Peking had ordered him not to resist the revolutionists by force but to surrender peacefully. The Tartar general commanding the Manchu troops refused to obey these orders. A condition of panic prevails.

Driving nails into hard wood is a matter of skill.

The experienced carpenter sends the nail straight and true.

The unskilled man bends the nail and blames the hammer.

Skill is required in making Toric Lenses.

We have the skill, plus better facilities.

Because of our greater skill and better facilities, we have so much confidence in the superiority of Toric Lenses made by us that we call them Toritor Lenses.

All deep curve lenses are Toric Lenses, but Toritor Lenses are better made Toric Lenses.

STATE OFFICERS ARE IN THE CITY

Secretary Burnie, whose theme was "How to Count Right." The transaction of business followed the address.

The public meeting of this evening promises to be one of unusual interest and everybody is invited to attend. The sessions continue tomorrow, the adjournment being at 3:30 in the afternoon. The president delivers his annual message tomorrow forenoon, following which the election of officers is held. The speakers for tomorrow are Mr. Burnie and Miss Lewis, and also Noah A. Gerig, of Crabill, and Rev. J. H. McCartney, Mrs. Ida Mason, Miss Lulu Buskirk, Mrs. C. S. Ridenour and Rev. E. E. Campbell.

The sessions are being better attended than any of the previous conventions of the county association.

MAY BE TWO WEEKS YET

Before Repairs Are Completed at Spy Run Power Station.

Experts from the Westinghouse shops at Pittsburg are at work making repairs to the railway power machinery at the Spy Run avenue power station, but it is said that two weeks more may be required to place the turbines in perfect condition again.

Meanwhile the electric power from the Anderson sub-station of the Indiana Union traction system is moving the street cars in Fort Wayne upon a normal schedule. The current comes into the wires of the Fort Wayne system at Penn.

NO CONNECTIONS HERE.

Embarrassed Bank at Akron Did Not Carry Fort Wayne Account.

The Citizens' bank at Akron, this state, in financial straits as a result of the alleged defalcations of Howard B. Harter, cashier of the institution, did not carry an account in Fort Wayne and had no business relations with any local bank so far as is known.

Dispatches say that Harter failed in a recent attempt to borrow $5,000 from a Fort Wayne bank and that he was intercepted by the officials as he was leaving for this city to attempt the negotiation of a loan of $15,000. It is believed that depositors in the Akron institution will lose nothing. It was a small private institution and th estockholders are personally liable for its indebtedness.

Members of all branches of the L. C. B. A. are requested to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hugh Hogan tomorrow morning, at 9 o'clock.

PREPARING FOR THANKSGIVING.

Somebody Took Eleven Turkeys From the Tonkel Farm.

Somebody is preparing for Thanksgiving and as a result Charles Tonkel is looking for eleven turkeys that made their home with him until yesterday. He has asked the police to aid in the search as the flock was purloined and he would like to get hold of the thief. Nine of the turkeys are of the bronze variety and two are white.

NEW ISLAND IS SINKING.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Nov. 7.—The mud volcano, which rose unexpectedly with an outburst of fire and smoke between the island of Trinidad and Venezuela, appears on closer investigation to have two craters, both active. Today it was reported sinking and it is thought that the new island may not prove permanent.

NOTED EDITOR IS DEAD.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 7.—Dr. Aldred C. Lambden, editor of the Public Ledger for the past twelve years and previously managing editor of the Philadelphia Times, died today aged 65 years. Dr. Lambden was well known as a writer on musical and art topics.

TROUBLE IN AFRICA.

Lisbon, Nov. 7.—Serious news is received daily from Angola, the Portuguese possession in western Africa. A revolt among the natives is spreading, and the blacks are burning and pillaging everything in their path. Notwithstanding the effort of the government to conceal the situation from the public it is known the situation is precarious.

RETURNS SHOW DEMOCRATS HOLDING OWN

Philadelphia opened clear and warm and the indications during the morning hours were that an unprecedented vote would be polled for the mayoralty candidates. The contest for mayor lies between George P. Earle, Jr., who has the support of United States Senator Boise, Penrose and the republican organization and Rudolp Blankenburg, a fighter in the ranks of reformers for many years, who heads a fusion ticket.

CHICAGO.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Extraordinary pains were taken today to prevent fraudulent voting at the judiciary election in Chicago and Cook county polls were triply guarded. Besides the regular details of police, County Judge Owens and Assistant State's Attorney Marshall each was given command over details of detectives to guard all polling places. Ten superior court judges and one circuit court judge are being chosen.

ADMIT BIG THEFT.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 7.—Postoffice officials today denied that a package containing $2,000 had been stolen last week while it was en route from this city to New York, but they admitted that such a theft occurred four months ago. The package containing the money was fully insured. Neither the package nor any other parcels or letters which were in the stolen pouch have been traced.

All members of Division No. 1 and 2, Ladies Auxiliary to the A. O. H. are requested to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hugh Hogan tomorrow morning, at 9 o'clock.
